102	Additional Precognition, Trades House, 1827	Andrew Brocket, Mason providing valuation for a property near the waterside. John Lawson, Merchant, went to reside at the Broomielaw 22 years ago. When he went there they extended to about York Street. The ground below that was quite waste as far as that belonging to the heirs of Dr Reid. Considers it absolutely necessary to widen the bed of the river. The river used to overflow the ground as well as the road and even the cellars in the tenement were filled up. James Sapsly, Master of the Albion. Widening of the harbour has been a most necessary improvement. Albion of the smaller class of steam boats. Larger vessels could not land at all at the upper part of the quay. Thinks it absolutely necessary to buy ground if it could be used for this purpose. John Houlds Tailor, Dogherty's Land, Gorbals, 30 years no posts fasten vessels on the south side of the river. Remembers corn growing on the Trades ground to the river or nearly so. The meeting believed that there was a strong need for aPolice Force in the City and that the Police Bill outlines an accurate plan for establishing such an establishment. It appears to them however to be somewhat exceptionable regards to the mode of selecting the Commissioners, who instead of being appointed in the manner therein mentioned should be chosen by the body of contributors. They also consider the powers of making bye laws and enforcing them with fines to be dangerous and unexpedient. These points should be given up by the magistrates as they are not necessary to the Bill and are disliked and suspected by the citizens. 4690	20th Novr 1801. Condescendance f William Cassils and others respt agt Archd Hardie and others Applicants. They had been refused permission to print their case for distribution to the members of the house, and so state their case here. Hostility to Mr Melvin by Mr Hardie and clerk was persoanl. Facts: at Lammas court Melvin sent the accounts via Mr Thomson, with payments from 2 journeymen (John Robbe & David Bryden) which cleared him with the incorporation. Mr Thomson presented the sums to the meeting but said he had been instructed not to pay the journeymen's booking fees unless Mr Melvin was clear of the books. Continues for 4 sides. 4691	28 Aug 1801. James Gray booked as journeyman with William Brand. William Cassils, son of William Cassils freeman, is entered as freeman. John Robb and David Braden were entered as journeymen with James Melvin. William Patrick entered as journeyman with John Gibb and William Hunter. 10 Sept 1801: called because Melvin had asked why his name was not on the qualified roll, and was told it was because he had not paid the booking fees for his journeymen (William Moffat and Thomas Jeffrey. Melvin replied thwt Moffat was a labourer not a journeyman so he was not liable for a fee. Jeffrey now serving Cassils but Melvin offered to pay the fee. 18 Sept 1801 Cassils chosen deacon of incorporation, John Hardie as collector. 2nd Oct 1801 William Brand was discharged of his intromissions as collector, and Melvin recorded as debtor to the Trade and hence removed from the qualified roll for voting. Signed A. Hardie, J. Hunter, W. Brnd, J. Muir, R. Muir, J. Hardie, Hattan Brown, John Brown, James Crum, John Crum, Jno Mitchell. 4704	Unanimously opposed to the bill as unreasonably oppressive to the greater body of citizens and should be rejected in toto. Other observations: Any police commissioners should exclude the magistrates, deacon convenor and dean of guild. Extension of Royalty boundaries would allow any inhabitants to trade without having become burgesses or trades members. Agreed to the claims of the partners in the inkle factory. Magistrates propose to retain the patronage of any new churches. Proposed extension to jail would be a prodigious expense. That shopkeepers ought not to have to clean pavements, which should be done at the town's expence. Agrees that all coals should be sold by weight. That no man should be condemned unless on evidence of 2 or more witnesses. Signed John Turner, deacon, and James Robb.
