Index to Obituaries in the Trades House Minutes

The following index was created to support new Deacons and Visitors in learning about those who preceded them. It may also be of interest to Clerks who receive enquiries concerning Past Deacons from members of the public. For people interested in genealogy, the index will be of immense use in finding more about their ancestors.

The information is presented in a digital format for ease of searching, but it can be printed if the reader prefers.

The source documents used were the minutes of the Trades House of Glasgow from 1874 to 1974. The early minutes are available online in the Digital Library of the Trades House Museum website: www.tradeshousemuseum.org where they may be downloaded for personal use only. Later minutes can be accessed in the Trades House by prior arrangement with the Trades House archivist. Due to data protection legislation it is not possible to upload the later minute books as they contain personal information concerning the living.

The first indexed section is organised by the date that the obituary was presented in the minutes of the Trades House, and the second section is in Incorporation order. The file is in P.D.F. format and this allows the reader to search and copy text and to paste the section copied into Microsoft Word.

The House archivist and librarian are always happy to assist Deacons and Visitors in their research for new and interesting stories to recite at their Dinners.

If you spot an error or typo, or have any suggestions for improvement please let the archivist know and he will update the document for future users.
