Preface

To the Tables of Contents, Extracts and Notes on Officials previous to 1660, for which space could not be found in Vol. II., there has been added, at the suggestion of the Secretary of the Club, a Supplementary List of Officials down to the present date. In compiling that List, more especially in those portions dealing with the second half of the 17th century, the Editor had valuable help from Dr. J. Maitland Thomson, Advocate, late Curator of the Historical Department of H.M. Register House, which he welcomes this opportunity to thankfully acknowledge.

The exceptionally laborious task of preparing the Index to all three volumes, which forms the greater part of the present volume, has been entrusted to Miss Jean E. Kennedy. The admirable manner in which she did similar work for the volume, issued by the Club, relating to the Scots Colleges, and for Mr. P. J. Anderson's recent "Quatercentenary Studies," may be taken as a guarantee for the completeness, accuracy and reliability of her contribution to the present work.

To Messrs. Taylor & Henderson, the Printers of these volumes, the Editor gives most hearty thanks. The beauty and excellence of the printing speak for themselves, but only the writer can speak of the painstaking skill in proof reading, and of the unvarying courtesy and kindly patience which he has at all times experienced at their hands, and which he will ever gratefully remember.

General Introduction

Any interest which the Tables of Contents and Extracts, contained in the following pages, may have for the general reader, must centre mainly round the picture which is there to be found, of legal administration in the County of Aberdeen, under the Commonwealth and Protectorate.

When the English Parliamentary Government found itself firmly seated in Scotland, one of its first steps was to appoint Commissioners for ordering and managing affairs in Scotland. This body was styled "The Commissioners of the Parliament of the Commonwealth of England for ordoring and managing effairs in Scotland." Somewhat later, we find another set of Commissioners spoken of as more specially charged with judicial administration, under the title of "Commissioners for adminestratiōne of Justice to the peopill in Scotland."

Although the English forces were in possession of Edinburgh in 1650, it was not until early in September of the following year that Aberdeen was occupied. Of their presence there the Books of Court contain no direct evidence until the month of May, 1652, and it is quite clear that no interference with, or interruption of, the ordinary work of the Sheriff Court, on the Civil side, took place until towards the end of February of that year. It is more than likely, however, that at their first coming, the officers of the Parliamentary Army took charge of the criminal work of the County, as they are said to have done in other places.¹

¹ On 17 March, 1654, a decree was pronounced in the Sheriff Court at Aberdeen, in which the ownership of a horse, alleged to have been dishonestly come by, was held to have been previously decided by the Deputy Governor of Leith and some other officers of that garrison, whose "Testificat" was held by the Sheriff to be binding on him.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

From February until May none of the different Books contain any entries, and it may be surmised, that during that period the sittings of the Court were suspended to await instructions from headquarters. These instructions, which were placed on record in the Books, as part of the proceedings on 26 May, 1652 (p. 73), and the Commissions, which were recorded along with them, are full of interest.

Except in one very important, and in one minor particular, the attitude of the Commissioners towards the administration of the law was conservative.

The abolition of the Commissary Court, as a separate judicatory, and its incorporation with the Sheriff Court, must have appeared a very drastic step to Scotsmen of those days ; but to the Puritans its existence doubtless seemed a natural step in the process of breaking the ecclesiastical yoke, which they had been striving to throw off. What they did in that matter was only one of many examples of their prescience, but nearly two centuries had to elapse before their successors were wise enough to follow their example.

The smaller change which they made, was in the disuse of the Latin tongue, for which the vernacular was substituted about the middle of June, 1652. In that also their action has been endorsed by later generations.

Judging from contemporary accounts, it was apparently at one time in the minds of those who controlled the Parliament of the Commonwealth, to treat Scotland as a conquered country, and to impose upon it wholesale, the legal system and practice of England, but other and more moderate counsels prevailed. Instead of abolishing the existing law of Scotland, it was resolved to conserve it by strengthening its administration. In his memoir of the 1st Lord Stair, the learned author, Mr. Æneas

General Introduction

Mackay, notes with regard to the Court of Session previous to the advent of the Commonwealth, that "its judges were accused, with good cause, of arbitrariness, partiality and bribery," and it was undoubtedly the case that, speaking generally, all Courts of Law had in a measure ceased to command the confidence of the community. In these circumstances what was needed was just the thorough-going straightforwardness and force which was one of the leading characteristics of the Ironsides.

In Edinburgh the Supreme Court was reconstituted, the bench consisting of four English and three Scottish lawyers.

In Aberdeenshire a soldier was set over and alongside of the sitting judge ordinary, who had already considerable experience of the work, and some of the results of this reinforcement of the bench and legal executive will now be glanced at.

It would almost appear that before the English forces came North, attempts were being made by the authorities to strengthen the arm of the law. The appointments of Sheriff Officers, beginning in 1649, and becoming fairly numerous in 1650-1, may be interpreted to indicate something of this kind. The example given (p. 65) of the admission of one James Mill, on 11 June, 1652, is (except as regards the Tender of Union) in precisely the same terms as all these Acts of Admission previous to 1653, and in common with them, refers to "Instructions insert in this Book." As a matter of fact, no such Instructions are found in that book at that time, but several blank pages occur near the end of 1649, just before the admissions became comparatively frequent. In 1653, there is a reference in one of these Acts of Court to "Injunctions" for Sheriff Officers, and in all of them after that year, the language used slightly differs from what is found in those of earlier date. The writer is therefore inclined to think that the document entitled "Injunctions for Shirreffs Officers of the Shirreffdome of Abd." (p. 63), which occurs in the original between entries of November and December, 1656, but without any preamble or explanatory statement, took the shape in which it is found, some little time after Col. Ashfeild became Sheriff, as well as Governor, of Aberdeen. It needs no more than a cursory perusal of these "Injunctions" to show how much the strong arm was needed. The slaughters, thefts, riots, oppressions, bloodshed and other crimes, which were occurring, were not only not reported by the officers of the law ; but those whose duty it was to report them, were accepting hush money to conceal them. More than that, officers of the law, for the purpose of gratifying the malice of themselves or their employers, or with the object of extortion or blackmail, were in use to issue summonses and lay on arrestments, in name of the law, but really by the use of false and pretended, possibly forged, warrants and precepts. Such was the state of matters which the provisions in the "Injunctions" obviously suggest, and which they were intended and well calculated to remedy. For be it noted, that as a result of the steps thus taken, and before the reign of the Commonwealth and Protectorate took end, there was in almost every parish of Aberdeenshire, an officer of the law with these "Injunctions" in his hands, or in other words the County was fully policed.¹

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

There may be noticed here in passing, as a legal curiosity, the provision that crime should be reported to the Sheriff Clerk and not to the Procurator Fiscal. Of this, various explanations might be given ; but a probable one is that the Sheriff was still recognised as the prosecutor of crime, and that the duties of the Sheriff's Procurator (the Fiscal) did not come into play until after the prosecution had been initiated and brought into Court by the Sheriff, through the Sheriff Clerk.¹

¹ It would appear that when the strong hand was removed, there was a gradual relapse, so that in 1733 Wm. Forbes, the Sheriff Depute, was obliged to issue a set of Regulations for Sheriff Officers, with a view to put a stop to the evils then prevailing.

General Introduction

So much for the steps which were taken to strengthen and purify the execution of the law.

But what of the administration of justice in the ordinary Court in civil causes? Does evidence exist of increased confidence in them, or resort to them? How does the volume of business compare during the period in question with other similar periods of time? The answers to these questions had to be sought for in the very voluminous Decree Books of the period, which it has been found quite impossible to deal with in this work; but to which it is necessary to refer in general terms in this place.

On turning to these we find confirmation of the statements of contemporary observers, that the impartiality of the Judges, and prompt despatch of business in the Scottish Courts, so attracted claimants and distressed debtors, as to be one of the contributing causes of the Glencairn rising in 1652-4. Comparison has been made between the number of Aberdeenshire decrees recorded for 16 years preceding March, 1652, and the number for seven-and-a-half years after that date, with the result that the number for the shorter period has been found to exceed that for the longer by almost two to one. Arrears which had been accumulating during the disturbed years of the "troubles" would doubtless be responsible for some increase, but after making every allowance, and without attaching undue importance to statistics, it cannot but be allowed that much of the increase must be attributed to a growth of confidence on the part of the public, inspired by increased efficiency in the administration of justice.

Although Col. Ashfeild did not remain long in Aberdeen,

¹ Reference is made to the Introduction to Vol. I., pp. xliv-vi.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court:

there does not seem to have been any falling off in the despatch of business, during the subsequent years of the Commonwealth and Protectorate, when Forbes of Echt was Sheriff Principal.

There are extremely few examples of criminal business in the pages that follow, but those that occurred after 1651 are not devoid of interesting features. There is in them some corroboration of contemporary statements that the Courts were, at that time, more merciful than they had formerly been. Not only has no capital sentence been found in cases where both before and after the period in question, the death penalty would have followed, but we find (p. 62) convicted prisoners acknowledging the moderation and clemency with which they had been treated.

One noteworthy deviation from use and wont in the Sheriff Court will be observed in the sentences of banishment. Formerly the criminal was banished from the Sherifffdom, which in the case of Aberdeenshire generally meant that he or she was packed off by way of the Bridge of Dee into the neighbouring County of Kincardine. The Sheriffs of the Commonwealth and Protectorate, however, assumed the right to send the accused into foreign exile, the sentences being in some cases banishment from the "Isle of Britane," and in one case "forth of the three nations of England, Scotland and Ireland." In most cases the punishment of death without further trial was the penalty attached to failure to obtemper the order. In the case of Bell (pp. 61-2) where the banishment was only from Aberdeenshire and Banffshire, there is an approach to the modern provision requiring that convicts on ticket of leave should keep the authorities advised of their whereabouts, with the object of securing their efficient supervision by the police.

It was not to be expected that the new comers would take over the judicial staff of the Sheriff Court exactly as they found it, but they made wonderfully little change. As will be seen from the Commissions, and from the list of officials, no change was made except in the office of Sheriff Principal. It was natural, looking to the executive powers which were attached to the office, that for a time at least, the chief place should be filled by the representative of the Commonwealth, who had supreme charge of the district, and so Col. Ashfeild, whose authority extended to Banffshire also, was made Sheriff of the combined Counties. With him was associated Dr. Douglas of Macduff, who must have satisfied the Commissioners of his loyalty to the new regime. The conjunction of the counties (now an accomplished fact) seems at that time to have been of brief duration, there being no evidence of it in the appointments of the Sheriff and other officials in 1656.

As there was really little change in the personnel of the staff, so also there was almost none in their tenure of office. It will be recollected that Charles I. had succeeded in getting rid of the heritable Sheriffship in the County of Aberdeen, and had made the appointment a yearly one. It is true that he had gone back on that, by bestowing the office on the Earl Marischal for life; but then the Scottish Parliament (Vol. II. p. 530) had returned to the yearly system. In making appointments for limited periods, the English were only following previous practice, both Royal and Parliamentary.

One important restriction, the reason for which is easily understood, was put upon the executive power of the Sheriffs, inasmuch as they were forbidden to "raise leavy or array or cause to be raised or leavied any forces for or upone pretence of suppressing any insurrectiones rebelliones or treasonis without the warrant or particular directione of the Comander in Cheife in Scotland," and this restriction was repeated in the Lord Protector's Commissions to Forbes of Echt. The approval of the Commander in Chief was, according to the terms of the Commission of Ashfeild and Douglas, also required to the appointment of Sheriff-Deputes, while in Forbes of Echt's Commission it was the Lord Protector's Council, whose approval was necessary. The appointment of Sheriff Clerk, which had been usurped by the heritable Sheriffs, was now finally resumed by the central authority.

On the other hand, in the matter of the qualifications for holding office of all persons of Scottish nationality, the requirements of the Commissioners were revolutionary. It was required of them that they should declare their consent to the incorporating union of Scotland with England under a Commonwealth, without a King or House of Lords, and that they should take a solemn oath to be faithful to the Commonwealth of England as then established.

It may be observed in this connection, that in none of the Books of the Sheriff Court of an earlier date than 1652, has there been found a trace of the administration of any oath to an official, about to enter upon office, except the judicial oath de fidei administratione. A new departure was thus made by the English Republicans, and since then the Sheriff Court Books present constant examples of the administration of oaths of allegiance, or of allegiance and abjuration, not only to officials of the Court, but to a great variety of individuals.

In Edinburgh many members of the faculty of Advocates refused to take the tender of Union, and withdrew from practice at the bar of the Court of Session, until there was a relaxation of this requirement, but there is no evidence in the volumes under review, that anything of the kind took place in Aberdeen. The dreadful state of poverty to which the country was reduced, induced men to cast about for any honest means of finding a livelihood, and it is not altogether surprising to find that those who were in possession of offices, clung to them rather than court beggary, and that many were ready to accept any government rather than starve.

The precise date of the withdrawal of the Tender of Union is not found in these books, but it will be seen that the last Sheriff Officer, of whom it was required, was Alexander Anderson, in Kirkton of Skene, on 7 December, 1655 (p. 55), and that in the Commissions to the Sheriff and others in March, 1656 (pp. 78-80) no mention is made of it.

The straits to which many persons in a fairly good position were reduced, will be found touchingly illustrated in the applications of William Strachan's friends to have him appointed a Sheriff Officer (pp. 64-5). A[ndrew] Burnett of Sloui, the brother-in-law of the applicant, was a laird of some little importance, and his testimony and that of James Wight afford ample corroboration of statements to the same effect, in the accounts of the time.

The Supplementary List of Officials, added, as already mentioned, at the request of the Secretary of the Club, has been divided into two periods, the first from the Restoration to the date of the Act abolishing heritable jurisdictions, which followed the "45," and the second from that date to the present time.

PART I.

Records, 1642 to 1660

RECORDS OF THE SHERIFF COURT OF ABERDEENSHIRE

The Decree Books : Vol. VIII., 1642-9.

In none of the Sheriff Court Books is the effect of the "troubles" on legal business more obvious than in this. The marked falling off in Court work in 1639, has been alluded to in the prefatory note to Vol. VII. After the temporary settlement of public affairs which then took place, litigious business began to grow, and continued to increase during the years 1642-3: but something like complete paralysis seems to have followed, especially after the fight at Justice Mills in September, 1644. This will be at once seen from the following remarkable figures. Of some 260 folios or thereabout, of which the volume is made up, there were written upon in the year 1642 about 76

In 1643 „ 91

In 1644 „ 23 (all before the month of August).

In 1645 „ 12

In 1646 „ 12

In 1647 „ 10

In 1648 „ 17

6 months of 1649 „ 19

It is said that there were many legal professional men among the citizens who were killed at the Justice Mills—one of the Sheriffs Depute Mr. Robert Reid, certainly was. This might be held to open a door for an ingenious argument upon the causes of the cessation of litigation. To what extent was it the result of the general chaos in public affairs, how far was it due to the death of many leading citizens, and how far to the cutting off a considerable number of the limbs of the law? Probably different debating societies might take different views, and to such it must be left. To ordinary readers not inclined to argue, the figures will doubtless confirm what historians tell us, that at no period of its history did Aberdeen and Aberdeenshire suffer more than during "the troubles."

The amount was made payable at the first term of Whitsunday or Martinmas after the late Marquis' death, with 5000 merks of penalty, and interest at the rate allowed by Act of Parliament (2) A Bond by Lord Gordone to pay interest at the rate of 2100 merks per annum, beginning at Martinmas, 1631, and continuing until the first term of Whitsunday or Martinmas after his father's death. At the date of Mr. Buchan's death, which occurred in January, 1635, nothing had been paid, neither had any payment been subsequently made. Daudsone in Slydie, James Martein in Comers and Margaret Fraser, widow of Alexr. Burnet of Ennetis, for her interest. The original obligation founded on, was one by the late Alexr. Burnet of Kebbatie to one John Duncane, for 200 merks, dated 16 May, 1608. On 10 August, 1641, Alexr. Duncane in Ennetis, brother and executor confirmed to John Duncane, obtained decree in the Commissary Court against the Defender Margaret Fraser, as Intromitter with her late husband's estate, for a balance of £100 then due. Upon this decree arrestments were used in the hands of the other Defenders, of rents due by them to Margaret Fraser, and upon 19 April, 1643, the debt, decree, and diligence, were assigned to the Pursuer.

Novr. 3. Accounts for Meal, &c. Alexr. Irving "sone naturall" of the late Alexr. Irving of Lenturk, and Robert Irving of Lenturk his Tutor v. his debtors. Twelve different debtors were sued for different debts. In each of two cases a sum of £16 was decerned for as the price of an ox.

Rent. Marjorie Rickart, widow of James Walker in Peterheid, and liferentrix of the lands v. Wm. Lawrance in Auld Knok. The Pursuer's title to sue the Defender for the duties of his occupation of Auld Knok was thus deduced. (1) Contract Matrimoniall dated at Keithe, 12 December, 1605, between George, Earl Marschall, &c., who was Titular of the teind sheaves of New Knok, Auld Knok, Knokailhous and Miln lands thereof in the barony of Adan, taking burden on him for Geillis Keithe his "naturall dochter" on the one part, and John Knox of that Ilk¹ on the other part, by which, in security of a marriage provision of £1000 for his daughter on her marriage to Knox, the Earl granted the teind sheaves in question in "set and warrandice." (2) Assignment by Knox, with consent of the late William, Lord Keith, to the deceased James Walker and the Pursuer in conjunct fee and liferent, dated at Inverurie, 22 November, 1620. Expenses 53/4.

The discharge of the wadset had gone amissing and its date was disputed, a receipt for rent crop 1648 was pleaded as having closed the door against any claim for the previous year, and the prices of victual were in dispute. In the end the Pursuer was successful on all points. Expenses £8.

The Minute Books of Judicial Enactments : Vol. VI., 1649-60

The Title of Vol. VI. bears that it is a book of enactments from 1649 to 1653, whereas there is an entry as late as 1670. It so happens that the two entries at the end of the volume are dated in 1653, but they are out of place there, although it is very difficult to see how such a thing came about. The great bulk of the Acts recorded are before 1660, —only about 10 pages out of 126 being used for the 10 years 1660-70— and these last are not embraced in the subjoined Table of Contents.

The puzzling thing about the book is, however, the essential difference between its contents and those of all the preceding volumes of the same series. The first part is almost entirely composed of criminal sentences, and these occur at intervals throughout. There are a considerable number of obligations to keep the peace (Lawborrows), and of caution for the appearance of persons charged with crime (Bail bonds). By far the greatest space, however, is taken up with the records of the appointments of Sheriff Officers, and their admission, and finding caution for the due and faithful performance of their duties. A code of Injunctions for the Officers of the Sherifffdom has been found engrossed among the entries for 1656 and appointments to the office continued to be entered until 1661 when they ceased.

In the whole volume only one entry regarding an arrestment has been found, and not a single appearance by a married woman for the purpose of a judicial ratification. The three subjects dealt with may be summed up as crime, the keeping of the peace, and appointments of Sheriff Officers.

Needless to say the Editor has found it impossible satisfactorily to account for this remarkable change. The only plausible theory that he has been able to evolve has been, that, with the advent of a new Sheriff-Clerk in 1649, in succession to the three, all nearly related to each other, who had successively held the office for more than half-a-century, a new system was adopted.

Judicial Enactments : Vol. VI., 1649-60

With regard to arrestments it would appear that a practice had crept in of using arrestments, as a means of oppressing an adversary, without having first obtained a warrant from the Court. This is proved by the enactment among the injunctions for Sheriff Officers forbidding any officer to use an arrestment or other precept whatsoever, without warrant of the Clerk. The necessity of applying to the Court and of paying the Court fees would no doubt tend to reduce materially the amount of such arrestments as abound in the earlier books of this series, but this explanation is not sufficient to account completely for the change.

But what of the ratifications by women? It is well known that at a later period these were engrossed on the deed or other writing to which they related. Was it at this period that this method began to be introduced in Aberdeenshire? It might be so ; but after all, the theory that the Sheriff Clerk was responsible for the change is probably the correct one. Such a view is rather confirmed by what is found in the next volume of the series [1672-90] where such entries have been found, but it is most unfortunate that the civil enactments for 20 years at this period are not now available, especially those where women appeared with their husbands, to make declarations with regard to the surrender of their rights.

The Diet Books: Vols. XI., XII., and XIII., 1641-1659

The first of these volumes—1641-9—is identical in character with Vol. IV. of the Decree Books, and consists entirely of Interlocutory procedure, the results of which in the form of Decrees, found their place in a Decree Book Vol. VIII.; but which will not be dealt with in the present work. Following the method adopted with regard to Vol. IV. of the Decree Books, no Table of Contents of this Volume has been made. By way of general description, and as an indication of the ups and downs in the amount of the business of the Court, it may be stated that the Volume consists of some 250 pages, and that for the second half of 1641 the Interlocutors number about

Part of the Volume between June and November 1649 is apparently missing so that the number for that year may be understated.

In Vol. XII.—1649-53—we have a Volume of a similar character to Vol. X. of the Diet Books and the description need not be repeated. They are also alike in this, that important events in the history of the Sherifffdom took place during their currency. The former was coincident with the termination of the heritable Sherifffship, this one is marked by the supersession of Sheriffs appointed by the Scottish Estates, and the appointment of Sheriffs by Oliver Cromwell. It is thus one of the most interesting books of the series.

The establishment of order in the country at this period, seems to have had its usual effect on the Courts of Law, and the number of civil cases on the roll gradually increased in number. Take, for instance, and really at haphazard, the cases on the roll in the month of December, 1652. They were as follows :—

The constitution of the Court is not mentioned on all these occasions ; but when it is, it appears that the judges were Colonel Richard Ashfeild—Cromwell's Sheriff Principal—and with him Thomas Gordon, the Sheriff Depute.

The Ironsides did not favour the Classics, so even the Latin headings of the Courts were given up under them, and “Curia Capitalis” became “Heid Court,” and the whole language of the Services of heirs, of which there exists a separate volume beginning on 12 October, 1649, are altered from Latin to English.

Passing to Vol. XIII.—1656-9—it will be noted that the Diet Book from 1653-6 has not been handed down to us, although it is quite clear from other books, that there must have been such a volume. It is difficult to say whether or not this Diet Book is complete at the beginning and end. The first date is 16 January, 1656, and it is more than likely that the volume originally commenced with the Yule Head Court of that year, the outside leaves of which had got torn or otherwise damaged, before it was put in its present binding. The last date is 2 March, 1659. The days of the week are for the first time used, as well as the day of the month, in connection with the stated Court days, and they are Wednesday and Friday, or as they are there spelled “Weddins-day” and “Fredday.”

The increase of business is even more marked here, than in any former Volume, the enrolments being sometimes very numerous indeed, as many as between 50 and 60 having been observed for one sitting. Many of these, however, would doubtless be such as would find their place in the Small Debt roll in modern times.

Table of Contents of Vol. XII. of Diet Books

 Sept. 7. Appointment of Sheriff Clerk. Mr. John Campbell, eldest lawful son of Mr. James Campbell of Moy presented his commission as Sheriff Clerk, but, although space was left for it, the commission was not copied into the Diet Book, and so it does not appear from whom the appointment proceeded, or what were its terms.
- Oct. 2. Head Court. A large number of absent Barons fined £50, payable to the Procurator Fiscal for the Sheriff's behoof. The Laird of Carny (Mr. Wm. Davidsone) produced his infestment dated 14 July, 1630, to prove that he was not bound to give personal presence nor a suitor. Eighteen Barons were present, who resolved on account of the smallness of their number, "occasioned throw the greit raine in making watteris and burnes unpassabill," to postpone the election of Commissioners to Parliament to 23 October. William, Master of Forbes, presided as Sheriff Principal.
23. Adjourned Head Court. Parliamentary Election. Only thirteen Barons attended, who elected Arthur Forbes of Echt and John Kennedy of Karmucks, as Commissioners to Parliament until Michaelmas, 1650, and in case of the absence of either of them, Gilbert Skeine of Dyce was to take his place. No allowances were mentioned.
1650.
 Jany. 8. Head Court. Absent Barons fined £50. About half a dozen seem to have attended. Several are noted as being minors and among these the Laird of Haddo and Little Methlick.
- April 23. Head Court. Fine as above. Attendance apparently very meagre.
- July 31. Fiars Court.
- Oct. 2. Head Court. Fine as above.
1651.
 Jany. 7. Head Court. Fine as above. In this entry no markings were made to indicate who were absent, or who were present.
- April 8. Head Court. Fine as above.
- July 30. Fiars Court.
- Sept. 30. Head Court. Fine as above. Five Laids are marked as being represented by suitors, but these are the only markings.
1652.
 May 18. Appointment of Sheriff Principal. Colonel Richard Ashfeild took the oath de fidei before Major General Deane, Commander in Chief in Scotland.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court

1652.
 May 26. Commissions of Sheriffs and Appointment of other Officials. Col. Richard Ashfeild and Mr. Alexander Douglas of Downies presented Commission by the Commissioners of the Parliament of the Commonwealth of England for ordering and managing affairs in Scotland, dated 26 April, appointing them Sheriffs Principal and Commissaries within the respective Sheriffdoms of Aberdeen and Banff, until 1 November following. Colonel Ashfeild then administered the oath de fideli to Mr. Douglas, who also accepted the Tender of Union. Thereafter Thomas Gordoune, late Sheriff Depute, was appointed Sheriff Depute and Commissary Depute of Aberdeenshire and Banffshire, he having been already approved of by Major General Deane, and Mr. James Sandilands, and Mr. John Campbell, the late Commissary Clerk, and Sheriff Clerk of Aberdeenshire, were appointed to the same offices in the two counties. All these were sworn in and declared their consent to the Union. Col. Ashfeild gave authority to the Sheriff-depute, Sheriff Clerk, and Commissary Clerk to appoint deputies, for whom they should be responsible, whose oaths were to be taken and subscription of the Tender of Union seen to by the Sheriff-depute.
- June 9. Appointment of Commissary and Sheriff-Clerk Depute. Mr. Sandilands and Mr. Campbell appointed John Sandilands their depute, who accepted office and was sworn in.
- July 31. Fiars Court.
- Augt. 4. Ordinary Court. Colonel Ashfeild and Mr. Alexr. Douglas, Sheriffs Principal, and Thomas Gordoune, Sheriff Depute, were all on the bench together.
- Octr. 5. Head Court. Up to this time the headings were in Latin "Curia Capitalis, Pretorium," &c. In this case English is used, "Head Court, Tolhuith," &c. On the bench were Colonel Ashfeild, one of the Sheriffs Principal, and Thomas Gordoune, the Sheriff-Depute. The former signed the sentence of fine, which bore that the sum of £50 was to be paid to Mr. Alexr. Davidsons "Pror. Phiscall for the Commonwealth for the Shreffis behove."
- Novr. 17. Re-appointment of Sheriffs and other Officials from 1 Novr. until 1 May.
 April 19. Head Court. Both Ashfeild and Gordoune signed the sentence of fine. The name of the former does not appear again in this volume.
- June 24. Ordinary Court. The heading states that the Court was for the cases continued from June 1, 3, 10, 15, 16, 17 and 22 and there seem to have been more than sixty on the roll.
- July Fiars Court.

Officials, 1649 to 1660

OFFICIALS OF THE SHERIFF COURT OF ABERDEENSHIRE

The Sheriffs

1652-1653. COLONEL RICHARD ASHFEILD.¹

A single glance at the general political situation may not be amiss. In the end of 1647 the Scottish Commissioners had agreed to accept certain promises made by Charles, for the establishment of Presbyterianism and other things, and to send an army into England to secure his restoration. A large part of the English people were also ready to accept his promises to them, and risings occurred both in England and Wales. These were crushed, the Scottish invasion repelled by Fairfax and Cromwell in 1648, and the Commonwealth established in England in 1649. At midsummer 1650, Charles II. landed in Scotland, and on making the well known engagement to be a Presbyterian King, was backed by the Scottish nation. On September 3, 1650, Cromwell defeated the Scots at Dunbar, and took possession of Edinburgh, and a year later, on the anniversary of the battle of Dunbar, utterly crushed Charles' army at Worcester. All semblance of resistance was thus ended, and the existence of the Commonwealth for the time assured. Immediately after Worcester, on 7 September, 1651, General Monck, who had been left in Scotland by Cromwell when he followed Charles' army into England, and who had taken Dundee by storm a few days before, entered Aberdeen and took peaceable possession of it for the Commonwealth, a state of matters that lasted eight or nine years. This brings us to Cromwell's first Sheriffs principal of Aberdeen, Col. Richard Ashfeild, and Mr. Alexr. Douglas of Dounies, and in the Diet Book for 1652, Ashfeild's name is frequently mentioned and his commissions and installations are recorded. The first commission in favor of Ashfeild, which we find recorded is dated 26 April, 1652 (Supra

¹ The notes upon this Sheriff are based mainly upon the Court records, the Scots Acts, and Firth's Commonwealth.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

p.p. 70 and 71), and he and his colleague Mr. Alexander Douglas of Dounies took the Oaths on 18 May. According to the Decree Book of the Court, they had already (4 May, 1652) taken their seats on the bench, along with Thomas Gordon the Sheriff-Depute.

The first Commission was for six months : but it was renewed and there are traces of Ashfeild sitting in Court (as he frequently did, but always along with Thomas Gordon, the depute) until the end of 1653. Unfortunately there is no Diet Book proper, between 1653 and 1656 ; but there is evidence that Ashfeild was not in office in 1655, and a presumption that he vacated the place earlier.

Nothing has been ascertained as to Col. Ashfeild's family or history before his coming to Scotland, but various references to him occur in published documents, some of which may be suitably introduced in this place.

When the force under General Monck was left in Scotland by Cromwell, who had with the main army of the Commonwealth marched southwards, Ashfeild remained with it, in command of a Regiment of Foot. Leaving Kinross on 4 Augt., 1651, for Stirling, Monck besieged the latter place, and when the officer in command of the garrison offered to surrender, Ashfeild was one of two officers appointed to adjust the terms. On 1 Sept. following, he took part in the storming of Dundee, and soon after we find his Regiment mentioned as being in Aberdeen.

Among the orders of the Council of State at Whitehall regarding Scotland the following are found.

October 6, 1653.—“ That a letter be written to Ashfeild, Governor of Aberdeene in Scotland to let him know that he is to pay in to the Commissioners in Scotland such summe or summs of money as he had received upon the sale of the thirtie fishing vessels which were delivered to him by the Generalls of the Fleet in order to be sold for the use of the publiq ”

April 5, 1654.—“ That the Commissioners for administration of Justice in Scotland be and hereby are impowred to determine and judge according to law and justice to whom the Doggarboats sold by Col. Ashfeild and Major Pepper at Aberdeene in Scotland as also the vessel taken at Dundee and sold by the officers in Sept. 1651 doe of right belong and to take order for their disposeall accordingly ”

It appears from the lists of Commissioners for collecting taxes in Scotland, that Ashfeild was transferred from Aberdeen to the west of

Officials : Sheriffs

Scotland, his name appearing among the Commissioners for collecting taxes for the Shires of Lanark, Dumbarton, Renfrew, &c. His name also occurs in the Act for the security of the Lord Protector's person, passed in September, 1656.

One might gather from the terms of the following extract from a letter of General Monck to the Protector, dated Dalkeith, 21 March, 1656, that when in Aberdeen Ashfeild may have been on intimate terms with the Quaker Provost Jaffray of Kingswells. General Monck writes :—
“ May it please your Highnesse,—I have latelie received divers letters from many officers heere in Scotland, concerning the quakers, which they are afraid will encrease much among these forces in Scotland, unless your highnesse please to take some course in it. I thought it my duty to acquaint your highnesse therewith, and to send enclosed a letter I received from Colonel Daniell,¹ who doth nott know of the officer commanding his Company at Invernesse his being turned quaker, as Lieut Col. Man writes in his letters, which I have also sent to your highnesse, and truly I know noe Colonel nor officer of the field in Scotland favors them but Col. Ashfeild: and in Major generall Berrie's regiment, that came lately into Scotland, there being three officers quakers, and where they are (as I am informed) the greatest part of their troops are quakers. Truly I thinke they will prove a very dangerous people, should they increase in your army, and be neither fitt to command or obey, but ready to make a distraction in the Army, and a mutiny uppon every slight occasion. I desire (if your highnesse please) I may receive your order how I may carry myself to prevent this growing evill ” and so on.

In May and June, 1656, Ashfeild seems to have been in command of the forces at Glasgow.

Two years later, and some six months before the death of Oliver Cromwell, General Monck, dating from Leith on 22 March, 1658, wrote to Secretary Thurloe about Ashfeild, then apparently in London and some others as follows :—

“ My Lord

“ I am sorry to heare your debates are soe longe and your businesse goes so slowly on. I pray God unite your hearts, soe that you may settle things that may be for his glory and the peace of the nations. I much wonder they should question the Scotch Commissioners to sitt in parliament, being the country is united to England. I am sorry to heare, that any of the Scotch officers should be acting to divide and distract you. I could wish you had written to mee the names of them. I heard of Coll. Ashfeild and my lieutenant-colonell ; and if there be any more, I shall desire to heare their names, and I shall write to them. If they were heere, these two could signifie but a little, as little as any two officers in Scotland : but I could wish his highnesse would command them away to their commands, which I think would be the best course. As to what they are pleased to say, that the rest of the forces in Scotland are of their opinions, I assure you that they are much deceived : for there are no forces can be quieter than these are, and shall bee satisfied with any things his highnesse and parliament shall settle. And thus much you may be confident of from

¹ In Daniell's letter the following passage occurs “ but really my Lord, it may be sayed of this generation of stupid Scottish people as was sayed by the apostle of Himenaeus and Philetus that their word doth eat as a canker.” [Firth's Protectorate, p. 350.]

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

very humble Servant
George Monck "

No farther notice of Col. Ashfeild has been found and his name does not appear in the list of officers who signed the famous address to General Monck on 2 May, 1660, with reference to the Restoration of Charles II.

1652. MR. ALEXANDER DOUGLAS OF DOUNIES.

Although the appointment of Col. Ashfeild and Mr. Douglas was to both counties, the latter almost never exercised the office in Aberdeenshire. He must, however, be placed on the list of Sheriffs of that county. Dr. Douglas (for he was M.D.) was a very notable personality in his own town and county of Banff, as well as in Scottish affairs. Several times Provost of Banff and Member of the Scottish Parliament, a consistent supporter of the Covenanting cause, he was marked out for the appointment of Sheriff, which he received from the Government of the Commonwealth. Even those on the opposite side of politics seem to have respected his uprightness and capacity, and although he was assassinated, the circumstances of his death point rather to private than to public malice. Very frequent and varied notices of Dr. Douglas appear throughout the pages of Dr. Cramond's two volumes of the Annals of Banff, published by the Club. The date of Dr. Douglas' death is uncertain.

ARTHUR FORBES OF ECHT.

A specimen of the Commissions under which the Sheriff acted will be found on the preceding pages. (Supra p. 78.) It is dated in 1656, but it is clear from its terms as well as from one of the Books of Decrees, that he was acting at least as early as the beginning of 1655 and probably during 1654.

This laird of Echt, whom we have already heard of, as an unsuccessful nominee to the Scottish Parliament at Michaelmas, 1647, was successful at an adjourned Head Court on 23 October, 1649, and had been, like most of the Forbes family, on the Covenanting side. We now find him accepting office under Oliver Cromwell and the Commonwealth, and it seems probable that he remained in office until the Restoration or nearly so. In corroboration of this we find Forbes' name among the Scotch Judges reported on, in Richard Cromwell's time (supposed to be in the summer of 1659), the report being in these terms, "The Laird of Echt, of known integrity and good ability."¹

On 11 November, 1659, the Laird of Echt was, by a majority of the heritors, chosen to represent the county at a conference with General Monck in Edinburgh on the 15 of that month, and he was present at another meeting in Aberdeen on 2 December same year, when the majority of those present commissioned Charles, Lord Aboyne to be the bearer of their letter to Monck at Berwick.²

The time of Arthur Forbes' birth may be approximately guessed from the fact that on 1 October, 1639, he appeared at a head Court of the Sheriffdom stating himself to be under 24 years of age and revoking deeds granted by him to his hurt in his minority, and specially an obligation by him as principal, Mr. Robert Forbes, portioner of Finersie Minister at Echt, and Mr. Alexander Forbes, his son, as cautioners to Robert Gardyne of Tillifroskie for 800 merks dated 20 June, 1636. The Sheriff-Depute presiding was Mr. William Davidson of Carnie, and both he and Forbes signed the Act of Court. (Vide Vol. II., p. 498.)

The Sheriffs-Depute

1649-60. THOMAS GORDOUNE, SON OF THE LATE JOHN
GORDOUNE OF LITTLE GOWELL.

The appearance of this scion of the house of Gordon on the bench in June 1649, during the Sheriffship of William, Master of Forbes, and his continuance, first in the service of the English Commonwealth, and afterwards of Charles II., greatly excited the interest and curiosity of the writer. No commission or appointment nor any designation of him, by which his identity could be ascertained with certainty, was found in the Books of Court, although there was much to suggest that he was the Thomas Gordoune who had been Sheriff-Depute, 1621-26, and this has been ascertained to be the case. It would appear from the Register of the Privy Seal, that while Charles I. was with the Scottish Army at Newcastle in 1646, letters were issued, dated 20 September, appointing Thomas Gordoune, son of the late John Gordoune of Govell, Sheriff-Depute of Aberdeen, to the Sheriff-Deputeship of Aberdeen, vacant by deposition of Mr. William Davidsons, Advocate. These letters were not sealed with the Privy Seal until 24 May, 1647. But events moved fast in those days, and already on 17 March preceding the Scottish Parliament had appointed Sir William Forbes of Craigievar Sheriff, and John Forbes of Asloun Sheriff-Depute, both until Michaelmas following. The laird of Craigievar was succeeded by William, Earl Marischal as Sheriff, and Asloun was succeeded as Sheriff-Depute by John Keith of Clackriach, who was also Convener of the Committee of Defence for Aberdeenshire. Until the Earl Marischal was deprived in March, 1649, and with him Keith of Clackriach, there was no room for Thomas Gordoune; but then came his opportunity, and it is extremely likely that, if the record of the Pasch Court of 1649 had been extant, it would have contained some notice of his installation. Interesting as all this is, by way of side light upon the events of that stirring time, it is not the only interest that surrounds the subject of this notice. What manner of man was this, who, being a Gordon, a son of a devoted adherent of that house and of the throne, could yet keep his place under the Scottish Estates, the Commonwealth, and during the Restoration, until his retirement was compelled by the infirmities of age and blindness? Perhaps he possessed some of the office-keeping qualities, parodied in a well-known song, perhaps not! This at all events must be said of him, on the testimony of these old records, that he was, both in his youth and in his age, most faithful and regular in the performance of the duties of his office.

Officials : Sheriffs-Depute

Gordoune was appointed one of the Commissioners of Taxes for Aberdeenshire in the years 1655, 6 and 9, and in 1661 was, by Act of Parliament of Charles II., dated 14 June, 1661, elected one of the Auditors upon the accounts of John Forbes of Tulligony, who had farmed the Excise of Ale, &c., for Aberdeen and Banff in 1655.

1650 et seq. ALEXANDER FORBES (NOWHERE DESIGNED).

When Thomas Gordon was absent from duty, which was seldom, his place appears at this period to have been taken by Alexander Forbes, designed simply Sheriff-Depute of Abd. On the list of Advocates in Aberdeen an Alexr. Forbes is mentioned as having qualified in 1648, and a person of the same name was subsequently one of the Commissioners of Taxes for the Burgh of Aberdeen under the Commonwealth. It is probable that the Sheriff-Depute, Advocate, and Commissioner of Taxes were one and the same person.

The Sheriff Clerk

1649-60. MR. JOHN CAMPBELL (AFTERWARDS OF MOY).

On 7 September, 1649, Mr. Campbell, designed as eldest lawful son of Mr. James Campbell of Moy, presented a gift of the office of Sheriff Clerk, and beginning a Decree Book on that day, caused it to be entitled "Register of Decreetis vii September 1^m vic fourtie nyn yeares qlk wes the tyme of Mr. Johne Campbell his entrie to the office of Shreff Clerk within the Shreffdome of Abd." Unfortunately the Deed of Gift or Commission was not copied into the blank space which was left for it, so we have been left in ignorance of its terms ; but more care was taken when he was re-appointed by the representatives in Scotland of the English Commonwealth. [Supra pp. 74, 75, 80.] There is nothing to show when Mr. Campbell ceased to hold office, but presumably he did so about 1663 when we find mention of a new incumbent. On 8 March, 1654, he was admitted a burgess of Abd. ex gratia, as having married Jean Moir, the daughter of Principal Moir of Marischal College who was a burgess, and when, on 24 April, 1674, his wife resigned any rights which she had to the lands of Old and New Westhall in the Parish of Oyne, in favor of Mr. James Horne, Minister at Elgine and Isobel Leslie, his wife, Mr. Campbell (designed of Moy) appeared and signed as consenter.

In the Brodie Diary, Mr. John Campbell of Moy and his wife are mentioned as having been at Brodie in 1684, and from a passage in Jervise's Inscriptions it would appear that Mr. Campbell was buried with his kindred in the churchyard of his native parish.

The Procurator Fiscal

1649-60. MR. ALEXANDER DAVIDSONE ADVOCATE
 IN ABERDEEN.

Mr. Davidsone who was in office before 1649, continued to act during the whole of the English occupation.

SUPPLEMENTARY LIST OF OFFICIALS

I.—Officials 1660-1748

The Sheriffs

1660-71. WILLIAM, 6TH EARL MARISCHAL.

In the Scots Acts of 1661 we find a Ratification of a "signatour superscryved be his Maiestie at Whitehall the tent of Agust 1660" whereby Charles II. gave effect to a gift by his Royal father to William "now Earle of Marischall" for his lifetime, of the Sheriffship of the Shire of Aberdeen, and a new grant to be made out. The Diet Books furnish evidence of the Earl Marischal having acted as late as 1668, and there cannot be much doubt but that he held the office until his death in 1671. He also held the place of Lord Privy Seal. During the short visit of Charles II. to Scotland in 1650 he was entertained at Dunnottar by the Earl Marischal, who was taken prisoner by the English forces in the following year and imprisoned in the Tower until the restoration.

1672-77. ALEXANDER, LORD FYVIE, AFTERWARDS
 3RD EARL OF DUNFERMLING.

The connection of this family with Aberdeenshire is now a matter of ancient history and not many are aware that Setons were proprietors of the estate of Fyvie for about a century. It passed from the Meldrums by purchase in 1596 to Lady Seton and her son, afterwards 1st Earl of Dunfermline, and it was forfeited in the person of James the 4th Earl, who adhered, at the Revolution of 1688, to the cause of King James VII. and fought at Killiecrankie. The first, second and fourth Earls seem to have been men of mark: but nothing notable is on record regarding the third Earl. His father died in 1672 and he did not long survive, for the

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

Commission of his successor in the Sheriffship of Aberdeen is dated October, 1677. The only mention of the Earl's Sheriffship in the Sheriff Court Books is found in that Commission, and in that of Sir Charles Maitland of Pitrichie, as Sheriff-Depute, but in the Calendar of State Papers, Domestic 1671-2, there is mention of a warrant dated 22 January, 1672, for a grant of the office to Lord Fyvie, as Sheriff for his life, in succession to William, Earl Marischal. His death took place between 23 August and 27 October, 1677.

1677-82.

JOHN, 12TH EARL OF ERROLL.

Lord Erroll's Commission, which was for life, was dated at Whitehall, 27 October, 1677, and was presented by him in Court in Aberdeen, on 8 January, 1678, and engrossed in the Diet Book. He presided on 25 Jany., 1681, at the serving of Sir Charles Maitland of Pitrichie (who was then a Sheriff-Depute) as heir to his brother Sir Richard Maitland, in the Barony of Gight, and on various other occasions, some of them in connection with rival claims to the office of Sheriff-Depute, which will be afterwards noticed. On 22 Novr., 1682, he presided, when the Commission of his successor (he having resigned office) was presented, the closing words of the entry on that occasion being these "And the said Nobl Earle removeing furth of Judgement the said Court was affirmed & fenced in name of the said Lord Chancellor."

1682-85. SIR GEORGE GORDON OF HADDO, LORD HIGH
CHANCELLOR OF SCOTLAND.

Sir George Gordon had been rapidly coming to the front as a territorial magnate, lawyer and statesman, and it may be information to some to learn, that for a time, and while he was Lord Chancellor, he was also Sheriff Principal of his native County. His Commission was dated "Apud curiam nostram de Newmarket," 16 Octr., 1682, and as already stated, was presented on 22 Novr. following. He had previously taken the oath de fidei and the various other oaths and declarations necessary, as is evidenced by a Minute of the Privy Council, engrossed in the Diet Book, dated 7 Novr., 1682. He was, therefore, exempted from taking these at Aberdeen, and did not present his Commission in person.

Officials : Sheriffs

His appointment was during the royal pleasure only. Eight days after his Commission as Sheriff Principal of Aberdeen was presented, he was raised to the Peerage and became the first Earl of Aberdeen. He resigned the Chancellorship in 1684, in consequence of a difference with his colleagues in the Council, and the office of Sheriff in the following year. On 9 January, 1685, he is mentioned as presiding in Court, as Sheriff Principal, when there was presented for registration a Substitution granted by Mr. Aeneas McPherson of Invereshie, Sheriff-Depute of Abd. in favor of Andrew Thomson, Advocate in Abd., signed at Abd. of the same date, but there is doubt as to whether such statements in the Registers of Deeds, prove the actual presence of the Sheriff or Sheriff-Depute who is mentioned. All accounts represent him as a man of sound knowledge, solid ability and high authority.

1685-1704.

JOHN, 12TH EARL OF ERROLL.

The Earl of Erroll was reappointed Sheriff, but unlike his former Commission, which was for life, this one, dated at Whitehall, 1 May, 1685, was during the King's pleasure only. Presumably, however, he continued to hold office until his death on 30 December, 1704. On 24 July, 1685, he signed at Slains a Commission to John Hay of Aichres [Achiries] as a Sheriff-Depute in that part to take the Renunciation of a lady residing in the country, and on 6 October thereafter, he presided as Sheriff, along with Andrew Thomson as Sheriff-Depute, at the service of Charles, Earl of Aboyne, Lord Strathaven and Glenlivet to his father, Charles, Earl of Aboyne, &c., whose death was said to have occurred in March, 1681. The jurors on that occasion were George, Earl Marischal, Charles, Lord Fraser, Sir George Nicolson of Kemnay, one of the Senators of the College of Justice, Sir James Baird of Auchmedden, Sir John Forbes of Craigievar, George Leslie, Provost of Abd., Gilbert Menzies of Pitfodles, Sir William Keith of Ludquharn, Sir Alexander Burnett of Craigmyle, Sir George Skeen of Fintray, Arthur Forbes of Auchintowll, James Fraser of Tyrie, Alexander Elphinstone of Wartle, Mr. Alexander Irvine of Lairny, Mr. Richard Irvine of Cairnfield, David Eadie of Newwork and George Paton of Grandhome.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

1705-16.

JOHN, 11TH EARL OF MAR.

It appears from the terms of the grant by Queen Anne, dated 3 April, 1707, of the office of Sheriff Principal, in favor of the Earl of Mar for life, and his son succeeding him, which is engrossed in the Diet Book that he already had an earlier grant during the Royal pleasure only. The earlier Commission has not been recorded in the Books of Court ; but it has been elsewhere ascertained to have been dated 28 June, 1705. The Earl of Mar's career is matter of public history ; but it is probably not so generally known that, among many other marks of royal favour, following upon his strong support of the Union, there was, as appears from the Commission of 1707, a restoration in his case, of something like the old heritable Sheriffship. A Privy Councillor and a Secretary of State under Queen Anne, he was deprived of these offices by George I., and became a plotter against the Hanoverian dynasty. Some temporary success followed the rising, which he initiated at Braemar in his own Sheriffdom, on 6 Sept., 1715, but before the winter had passed he was an exile and under forfeiture.

1716-22.

JOHN, 7TH EARL OF ROTHES.

The office of Sheriff Principal of Aberdeenshire being at the disposal of George I., "per condemnationem Comitum de Mar pro laesa majestate et rebellione," the King proceeded (6 July, 1716) to confer it on the Earl of Rothes. A grandson of the Duke of Rothes, the staunch adherent and well known high Chancellor of Charles II., one might have expected to find this Earl side by side with Mar. On the contrary he took an active and not unimportant part in opposing the rising, and among other services, commanded the volunteer horse on the King's side at Sheriffmuir. He was several times elected a representative peer, and acted as High Commissioner to the Church of Scotland from 1715 to 1721, both inclusive. He also had the heritable Sheriffship of Fife ; but the Aberdeenshire office was conferred during pleasure only. His death took place on 9 May, 1722.

1722-48.

JOHN, 8TH EARL OF ROTHES.

No grant or commission has been found in the Books of Court ; but the fact that the young and newly succeeded Earl renewed, immediately after his father's death, the Sheriff-Depute's Commission, went far to prove that he must have been entitled to do so, and an entry in the Register of the Great Seal settles the point. The date was 22 May, 1722. We have seen that his father, the seventh Earl, did some soldiering in the "'15 ;" but the son was a professional soldier, saw considerable service, and rose to high rank. He was a Major-General at Dettingen in 1743, had a cavalry command at Rocoux in 1746, and at the time of his death, in 1767, was Commander-in-Chief in Ireland and a General in the Army. It does not seem that in such a career there could be much room for the performance of the duties of Sheriff of two important Sheriffdoms, and so little trace has been found of him in the Court Books of Aberdeenshire, beyond what has been already referred to. No evidence, however, of any subsequent appointment to the office of Sheriff Principal of Aberdeenshire has been found in the Books of Court or elsewhere, and it has therefore been assumed that he was the last to hold that office in the County of Aberdeen. For the abolition of the heritable office of Sheriff Principal of Fife, he claimed £10,000 and was awarded £6,268 16/-

Officials : Sheriffs

The Sheriffs-Depute

1660-8.

THOMAS GORDOUNE.

This Sheriff-Depute, who was in office at the Restoration, continued to act until the infirmities of age and failing sight brought about his retirement in 1668.

1666-8.

MAJOR GEORGE KEITHE OF KNOCK.

Although Thomas Gordoune was still acting as Sheriff-Depute, King Charles II. granted the office to Major George Keithe of Knock, for life. The Letter of gift was dated at Whitehall, 10 December, 1664, but was not presented until 3 February, 1666. On that day a Court was held in Aberdeen, when Major Keithe, who was also in possession of a deputation by the Sheriff of the same date as the Royal Letter, presented both the gift and deputation, and was admitted and sworn in by William, Earl Marischal, who presided as Sheriff. Although no mention was made of Thomas Gordoune, he still continued to act, Keithe's appearances on the bench being much fewer than his. Power was given to Keithe to appoint Substitutes, for whom he should be responsible. Keithe was among the Commissioners for levying Taxes in 1661 and 1678, and he was one of the Justices of Peace nominated for Aberdeenshire in 1663.

1668-80.

MR. JOHN FORBES, BROTHER GERMAN TO WILLIAM
FORBES OF CAMPHELL.

On 27 March, 1668, Mr. John Forbes presented an appointment to the office of Sheriff-Depute, signed by William, Earl Marischal, at Abd. on 19 February preceding, one of the witnesses to his subscription being Robert, Viscount of Arbuthnot. He also produced a Demission of the office, granted by Major George Keithe of Knock in his favor, signed at Mill of Aden, on 1 March of the same year. In neither of these is any mention made of Thomas Gordoune. The Court too, before which Mr. Forbes appeared was one constituted by special commission from the

Officials : Sheriffs-Depute

Earl Marischal, who would appear to have ignored Thomas Gordoune. The Commissioners appointed for the purpose of installing Mr. Forbes, were Sir John Keith of Caskieben, and Alexander and John Scott, Bailies of Abd., and by them he was admitted and sworn in. Fortified by the Earl's appointment, Mr. Forbes applied for a Crown grant, and on 3 June following he produced judicially in Court a gift by King Charles II., dated at Whitehall, 3 May, 1668.

The narrative was in these terms :—"Considdering that it is fit for the good of our service and benefit of our subjects that ane fitt and weell qualified persone be intrusted with the Shreff-deputship of our Shreffdome of Aberdeine and understanding that Thomas Gordoune Shreff deput of our said Shreffdome is become aged and infirme and his sight faillit him whairby he is rendered unable to exerce and sufficientlie to discharge the said office throughout the bounds of our said Shreffdome for suppressing of robberies, insolencies & ryots daylie committit thairin. And that Major George Keithe of Knock our lait Shreff deput there hes submittit [sic] the said office in favours of our lovit Mr. Johne Forbes brother german to William Forbes of Camphell. And now being sufficientlie informed of the abilitie and sufficiency of the said Mr. Johne Forbes to exerce the said place & office THAIRFOR" etc., etc.
"With full power to him to injoy and exerce the said place and office sicklike and as frielie in all respects and conditiones as the said Thomas Gordoune and Major Georg Keithe or aither of them or anie other Shreff deput formerlie officiit the samene within our said Shreffdome of Aberdeine."

Among other powers, Mr. Forbes was authorized to appoint substitutes, for whom he should be responsible.

Mr. John Forbes seems to have played many parts in his time. Master of the Grammar School at one time, thereafter Humanist at Marischal College, subsequently filling the same post at King's College, the last twelve years of his life were spent on the judicial bench in his native county. We are indebted to Thomas Kirke's journal of his tour in Scotland, for the following portrait of Mr. Forbes in July, 1677 :—

"Tuesday, 10th (July), we rode (from Keith) thirty miles over great mountains through great rain, and about eight o'clock we dried ourselves in Aberdeen. Here we took up our rest till Monday, the 23rd July. We had small diversions here: billiards and butts took up some part of our time, and two mountebanks that were there, employed some other part. We met with small civility from the town; only the Sheriff, Mr. Forbes, was very civil to us: he is a person of great worth, esteemed the learnedest man in Scotland ; he was formerly a regent of the New College here, and was made a choice of to make a speech to the King which he knew not of till past midnight, and the King came by five in the morning, yet he came off with so great applause that His Majesty promised he would prefer him ; he likewise entertained the King (as we were informed) with a kind of play, which he dictated to the actors extempore, a thing very wonderful. He has travelled most part of Europe, and has the languages, and is master of a profound memory. He has been Sheriff here above twelve years, and he will undertake to enumerate all the particular trials that have been before him orderly, and tell the chief points therein ; he will dictate to four penmen, and write a discourse himself all at the same time ; in short, he is a very worthy gentleman, and has been a very good fellow, but the gout does now make him cautious.

"In this country are many hares, for the Sheriff told us that 2500 hare skins were entered in their custom book this last year. While we stayed here we had the fortune to see Meldrum, who was very merry with us.

"Monday, 23rd July, we bid adieu to Aberdeen ; the Sheriff, Mr. Elphinston their collector, and one Mr. Seaton accompanying us, and gave us a treat at a little house on the South side the great bridge ; the Sheriff rode three or four miles with us and parted ; the other two went on further."

Mr. Forbes' death took place in August, 1680.

1677-82. CHARLES MAITLAND (AFTERWARDS SIR CHARLES MAITLAND OF PITRICHIE).

In the Royal Commission, appointing him conjunct Sheriff-Depute with Mr. John Forbes during the life of the latter, and sole Depute after his death, dated 25 October, 1677, Charles Maitland is designed "secound lawfull sone to the deceast Sir Richard Maitland of Pittrichie ane of the Senatores of the Colledge of Justice." Here again it may conduce to clearness as well as brevity, if a quotation is given from the Commission which was presented at Aberdeen on 14 December, 1677 :—

"We considering that our right trustie cousing Alexander Earle of Dumfermling Lord Fyvie & Urquhart etc Shirreff Principall of the Shirreff-dome of Aberdeen hathe by his letter patent daited at Edr. the twentie thrid day off August 1^m vi^c and seventie seven yeares Nominated and appoynted Charles Maitland secound lawfull sone to the deceast Sr. Richard Maitland of Pittrichie ane of the senatores of the Colledg of [Among other powers the following was conferred.] "Substituts if neid beis in the sd. office with officers serjands ðempsters and all other members of Courte necessare to make create and ordeane for whom he shall be answerable. According to Dean Temple's Thanage of Fermartyn, Sir Richard Maitland, Lord Pitrichie, died in 1678, but his son's Commission proves that his death had taken place before October 1677.

Lord Pitrichie's elder son, Sir Richard, the 2nd Baronet, survived his father only a very short time, and was succeeded by the subject of this notice as 3rd Baronet. Accordingly in August, 1680, we find him, as Sir Charles Maitland of Pitrichie, protesting that he had sole right to the office of Sheriff-Depute which, however, he demitted on 21 April, 1682. He subsequently represented the County in Parliament.

His death took place in 1700.

1680-2. MR. WILLIAM MOIR OF HILTOUNE, ADVOCATE.

It may have been observed that the date of the Crown appointment of Sir Charles Maitland of Pitrichie (then Charles Maitland) as Sheriff-Depute, on the nomination of the Earl of Dumfermling, was 25 October, 1677, while that of Lord Erroll as Sheriff Principal was 27 October, or two days later. So long as Mr. John Forbes lived, the new Sheriff Principal seems to have allowed matters to rest : but immediately after his death he proceeded to appoint Mr. William Moir to be conjunct Sheriff-Depute with Sir Charles Maitland, and to succeed him if he should be the survivor. The Earl bound himself not to grant any other deputation during Mr. Moir's lifetime, and farther consented to his nominee purchasing a Ratification or a new Deputation from the Crown. The date of the Commission was 25 August, 1680, and it was presented on 26 August, when the Earl himself admitted his nominee. On the former of these days Sir Charles Maitland had appeared in Court and solemnly protested that he and he alone was entitled to the office, and from various entries in the month of September following, it is obvious that there was a keen difference of opinion over the competing claims thereto.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

Although on 7 September, 1680, the Sheriff Principal ordered the Courts of the Sheriffdom to be fenced in his own name and in those of Maitland and Moir, the latter does not appear to have taken almost any part in the judicial work.

On 10 November, 1681, Mr. Moir, at the special request of Lord Erroll, demitted his office by a Deed of Demission, signed at Slains in presence of William Gordoune, the Sheriff Clerk for the time, but which was not presented in Court and recorded, until 21 April, 1682.

Mr. Moir was Commissioner for the Burgh of Kintore in the Scottish Parliament, 1667-73, and as such had on one occasion a somewhat unpleasant experience. On 5 July, 1672, an Act was passed for a supply of £864,000 Scots for the King's service. During the sitting, Moir was said to have uttered some words "tending to the subversioun of the Constitution of Parliament," for which he was sent to prison in the Tolbooth of Edinburgh, during the Lord Commissioner's pleasure. Five days later he was, on his own petition, brought to the bar, and having there, on his knees craved pardon, he was released from prison and allowed to resume his seat in Parliament.

The arms of Wm. Moir of Hiltoune were among those emblazoned on the roof of the "principals chamber" in Marischal College, between 1682 and 1700,¹ and either he or his predecessor, as proprietors or wadsetters of Hiltoune, were liable in payment of the annual rent of £13. 6s. 8d. Scots, from the lands of Little Arnage, embraced in the Royal grant to the Earl Marischal in 1592.

1682-1708.

ANDREW FRASER OF KINMUNDIE.

As has been already noted, the Demission of Mr. William Moir was presented and recorded in the Sheriff Court Books on 21 April, 1682. On the same day there was put on record, a Commission by the Earl of Erroll in favor of Andrew Fraser of Kinmundie, as sole Sheriff-Depute for life, reserving Sir Charles Maitland's rights under his gift from the Crown. By the deed, power and liberty were however given to Fraser "to transact and agree with the said Sir Charles for the said gift and obtaine right therof in his persone either by resignatione or dispositione by the said Sir Charles in favors of the said Andrew Fraser," and the Earl also agreed that Fraser might apply for a gift from the Crown, and promised "never to come in the contrair thereof." The clause of warrandice was from fact and deed, and the document was signed at Edinburgh on 30 January, 1682, one of the witnesses being William Gordoune, the Sheriff Clerk. Fraser's negotiations with Sir Charles bore fruit, for on 21 April, there was signed by the latter and recorded, a Demission by Maitland in favor of Fraser, which bore to be granted for onerous causes, contained a clause of warrandice from fact and deed, and a consent to Fraser's applying for a Crown grant of the office. The Diet Book next contains a judicial record of the resignation of Sir Charles Maitland, and of the admission of Fraser.

The first event of importance in Fraser's judicial career was the resignation of his patron Erroll, and the appointment of Sir George Gordon, the Lord Chancellor, which took place, as we have already seen, in October, 1682, but there is no indication of any interference by the new Sheriff with Fraser's position, and although the Diet Books from 2 January, 1684, to 12 September, 1690, have unfortunately been lost, it has been possible to ascertain from other volumes that he remained in undisturbed possession of the office until the first week of January, 1685. Up to this time his right to the office stood merely upon the appointment of Lord Erroll, who had resigned in 1682, and he had never obtained either a confirmation of the Sheriff's gift, or a fresh gift from the Crown. In these circumstances a pushing young highlander, Mr. Aeneas McPherson of Invereshie, a member of the Scotch bar, succeeded in getting a gift from the Crown. The history of his doing so will be found in his own words, in a brochure entitled "The Patron turned Persecutor," which has been issued as part of Volume XLI. of the Scottish History Society, edited by Canon Murdoch, to whom the writer supplied the information from the Sheriff Court Books, which he put to excellent use in the introductory part of the volume.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

According to such books as are available, Fraser virtually dropped out of sight from 1 January, 1685, to May, 1686, his place being taken, first by McPherson, and then by Andrew Thomson, Advocate in Aberdeen, to whom Lord Erroll, once more Sheriff, granted a deputation dated 9 and recorded 10 July, 1685. On 9 April, 1687, Kinmundie succeeded in getting his first Crown Commission, which was followed by another after the Revolution, dated 2 January, 1690, a third in conjunction with George Keith of Clackriach in 1700, and a fourth in conjunction with Mr. John Elphinstone, Younger of Logie, in 1707. His death seems to have taken place in 1708, his last recorded sitting being on 6 August of that year.

The lands of Kinmundie from which Andrew Fraser took his designation, were those situated in the Parish of Longside and County of Aberdeen.

1684-5. MR. (AFTERWARDS SIR) ÆNEAS MCPHERSON
OF INVERESHIIE.

In a short autobiography and in a letter entitled "The Patron turned Persecutor," both reproduced, as already mentioned, in the volume XLI. of the issues of the Scottish History Society, edited by the Rev. Alexander D. Murdoch, F.S.A. Scot., there will be found Mr. McPherson's own account of his seeking for, obtaining, and ceasing to hold, the office of Sheriff-Depute of Aberdeenshire. The date of his Commission from the Crown was 15 October, 1684, but unfortunately the Diet Books and Books of Decrees for the period are wanting, so that there survives no account of his installation, nor is it possible to affirm that the entries in the Register of Deeds, beginning on 9 January and ending on 15 July, 1685, bearing that deeds were presented in his presence, really prove that fact. His own account of his insisting on getting power to appoint a substitute, in order that he might be able to reside and practice at the bar in Edinburgh, rather incline one to the belief, that after Andrew Thomson's appointment as his substitute, on 9 January, 1685, Mr. McPherson did not personally attend much to the duties of the office.

Officials : Sheriffs-Depute

In a Book of Judicial Enactments there are, however, a couple of entries dated 22 April and 14 May, which bear that he presided in Court, and these may be taken to prove the fact that he did so.

Mr. McPherson was connected with the county of Aberdeen through his mother, who was the daughter of Robert Farquharson of Invercauld and Wardes, under whose care he was brought up and educated at Aberdeen. The date of his birth is set down as 1644, of his call to the bar (after practising as a writer) as 1683, and of his death as 1705.

1685-6. ANDREW THOMSONE, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

The date of Andrew Thomsone's admission as an Advocate in Aberdeen, is given in the List of the Society of Advocates as 1656. The Books of Court evidence, that before 1680 he was in large practice. Previous to 1685, he appears to have acted during the terms of office of both Maitland of Pitrichie and Fraser of Kinmundie, but no appointments have been found. Presumably he was in those years rather a Substitute than a Depute, and when Mr. Aeneas McPherson for a time ousted Fraser from the Deputeship, he granted (9 January, 1685) a Substitution to Thomsone. On 9 July of that year, however, the Sheriff Principal, Lord Erroll, signed at Slains a Commission, appointing Thomsone Sheriff-Depute during his Lordship's pleasure. This Commission was presented on 10 July, at a Court bearing to be presided over by the Earl, and on 15 July four deeds were given in for registration, of which three were said to be presented in presence of Thomsone, and one in presence of McPherson, whose name then appeared for the last time.

As already mentioned, Thomsone sat along with the Sheriff Principal on 6 October, 1685, at the service of the Earl of Aboyne, and his name has been found in the Sederunts of the Court until the middle of December, 1686.

1699-1707. GEORGE KEITH OF CLACKRIACH, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

On 28 June, 1699, two documents relating to the office of Sheriff-Depute were signed at Slains Castle. One of these was a Demission of the office at that time held by him, granted by Fraser of Kinmundie, part of which may be suitably reproduced verbatim in this place.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

"Be it known to all men be thir present letters Me Andrew Fraser of Kinmundy Shirref deput of Aberdein Shyre For so meikle as I am of considerable age and in respect of sundry of my necessary affairs I am oblidged sometymes to goe south and for severall other reasones causes and considerations I am willing ane conjunct be admitted with me in the sd. office of Shirref deputship Therfor witt ye me to have dimitted resigned and renounced Lyke as I be thir presents dimitt resigne renounce and overgive All and Haill my said office of Shirref deputship of Aberdein with the haill dignitties liberties immunityes emoluments fies casualties and profitts belonging therto and all right title entres and clame of right I cane pretend therto in the hands of ane noble Earle John Earle of Erroll Lord Hay and Slaynes high Constable of Scotland Shirref principall of Aberdein in favours and for a new gift therof to be granted to me and George Keith of Clackriach Advocat in Aberdeen conlie. & seallie. the longest liver of us two to be Shirref deputs of the sd. shyre and upon the decease or dimission of ane of us the other surviveing to have the sole exercis and jurisdiction of the said office and right to the wholl profitts and casualties therto belonging dureing all the dayes of his lyfetye."

The other document was a Commission by the Earl of Erroll, as Sheriff Principal, proceeding upon Fraser's Demission, appointing him and Keith conjunctly, to be Sheriffs-Depute in the terms above quoted. It contained a power to appoint Substitutes and other members of Court, except the Sheriff Clerk and Fiscal, a consent to an application for a Crown Ratification or Commission, a clause of warrandice from fact and deed, and a Commission to Mr. Alexander Thomson, Commissary Depute of Aberdeen to admit the new Sheriffs-Depute and to take their oaths.

On their side Fraser and Keith bound themselves to relieve the Earl of "the exchequer equies payable be the heretors of the sd. Shirrefdome and of all other dewes relateing to the said office after ther entry therto."

On 1 April, 1700, a Ratification of the Earl of Errol's Commission, with a confirming grant of the office, was signed with the Privy Seal at Kensington, and on 8 June thereafter registered at Edinburgh. At a Court held at Aberdeen by Mr. Alexander Thomson, Commissary Depute (designed of Portlethen), on 19 June, the whole of the documents were produced, and Fraser and Keith admitted in terms thereof, and the necessary oaths administered to them.

Officials: Sheriffs-Depute

Keith resigned the office he held in conjunction with Fraser, in 1707, and died between October, 1710, and May, 1711. He held the office of Sheriff-Substitute both before and after his term of office as Sheriff-Depute. According to the list of Advocates in Aberdeen, Keith became an Advocate in 1680.

1706-12. MR. JOHN ELPHINSTONE, YOUNGER OF LOGIE, ADVOCATE.

George Keith of Clackriach having resigned, Mr. John Elphinstone, Younger of Logie, Advocate, was appointed to be conjunct Sheriff-Depute along with Fraser of Kinmundy during their joint lives, and sole Sheriff-Depute after the latter's death, should he survive him, which he did. The Commission, which was granted under the Privy Seal of Queen Anne, was dated at Kensington 30 April, 1707, and written to the seal and registered 29 August the same year. No antecedent or concurrent Commission by the Earl of Mar as Sheriff, in favor of Mr. Elphinstone has been found; but it is extremely unlikely that the appointment was made without his approval, if indeed it did not proceed upon his recommendation. The Commission contained the usual power to appoint Substitutes and other members of Court, except the Sheriff Clerk. Mr. Elphinstone presented his Commission on 23 September, 1707, and was admitted and sworn by Fraser of Kinmundy; but with the exception of the Michaelmas Court on 30 September thereafter, when he signed, along with his colleague, the sentence of fine of the absent barons, and the Act of Admission of the Earl of Mar under his new Commission, he does not seem to have taken any part in the work of the Court.

Mr. Elphinstone appears to have been the first of the Sheriffs-Depute of the County of Aberdeen who did his work entirely by Substitutes. Of these there were several in succession during his tenure of office, as will afterwards be noted.

1712-16. PATRICK SANDILANDS, YOUNGER OF COTTOUN.

On 22 April, 1712, at Whitehall, John, Earl of Mar signed a Commission, conferring the office of Sheriff-Depute, during his pleasure, upon Patrick Sandilands, Younger of Cottoun, who had already been acting as a Sheriff-Substitute under Mr. Elphinstone, whom he now succeeded. The Diet Book, which contains a copy of this Commission, and of a second Commission, dated 22 January, 1713, contains no reference to any subsequent Crown Grant. The usual powers were conferred upon Sandilands, who performed the duties of the office for the most part personally, until 1716, his last recorded appearance being on 6 January of that year. On that occasion there were given up on behalf of William Weems, Merchant in Inverness, the Tutor (at one place called Nominate, and at another Dative), of Sir William Gordon of Lesmoir, three Inventories of the said Sir William's means and estate.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

1716-28. MR. ALEXANDER GARDEN, YOUNGER OF TROUP,
ADVOCATE.

The Earl of Rothes signed at Leslie on 14 August, 1716, a Commission as Sheriff-Depute, in favor of Mr. Alexander Garden, Younger of Troup, Advocate. The Commission was written by a clerk in the office of William Horsbrugh, Sheriff Clerk of Fyfe, and was witnessed by Mr. Alexander Bruce, Younger of Kenneth, Mr. Archibald Arnot, Surgeon in Kirkaldie, and Mr. James Angus, Governour to the Earl's children. The Commission was to remain in force until recalled by a writing under the hand of the Earl, who presided in Court on 30 August, and admitted his newly appointed Depute.

On the death of the 7th Earl of Rothes, his successor, in virtue of the powers conferred on him by his Commission, reappointed Mr. Garden as Sheriff-Depute. It is interesting to note that he signed two Commissions, the one at Leslie on 18 June, 1722, and the other at Edinburgh on 4 September thereafter. The second of these was more in accord with the style in use in Aberdeenshire; but the really important difference between the two was, that in the earlier (which was written and doubtless drawn by William Horseburgh, the Sheriff Clerk of Fifeshire), Regalities and Stewartries within the Sherifffdom were excluded, while in the second there was no such exception. That this was the reason for the issue of a second Commission, is made clear by the terms of the explanatory statement engrossed in the Minute Book on 2 October, when it was presented and recorded.

No trace of a Crown Commission has been found in the Diet Book.

In order to cure any difficulty about the validity of citations and executions thereof, given during the interval between the death of one Sheriff and the appointment of another, it was agreed to by the Sheriff-Substitute and all the procurators, and minuted in the Diet Book on 27 June, that no objection should be taken thereto.

Like his predecessor, Mr. Elphinstone, Mr. Garden was an absentee judge. He was no sooner appointed than, on the narrative that in respect of his "other necessar affairs" he could not "conveniently attend the sd. office," he proceeded to appoint a Substitute. His name has been observed as presiding in Court on one occasion only, and that was at a vacation Court in August, 1728.

Mr. Garden was Civilist at King's College from 4 November, 1717 until 6 April, 1724, when, according to Orem, he parted with the office for a consideration. If it is permissible to read between the lines of the terms of the appointment of his successor,¹ Garden was an absentee Professor, as well as an absentee Sheriff-Depute.

WILLIAM FORBES.

On 15 April, 1728, William Forbes, designed "Armiger" in the Latin Commission appointing him, took his seat as Sheriff-Depute. The grant of the office to him was dated at St. James Palace 11 March, and registered in Edinburgh on 9 April, 1728. The office was conferred on him during the Royal pleasure only; but with the usual powers. He continued to act until the first week of May, 1741, and, in marked contrast to his predecessor, he performed the duties of his office personally, for the whole thirteen years. It is true that there was always a Sheriff-Substitute, who could be called upon to act in case of emergency, but the instances in which Forbes did not preside in Court were very few and far between. Four Diet Books, and two Books containing a full record of summary Criminal Trials, abundantly prove both his diligence and zeal, which the writer—his great-great-great-grandson—draws attention to, with no little satisfaction.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

Mr. Forbes was the first Sheriff-Depute who was styled "Esquire," and his name was never mentioned in the Books without that affix, or its Latin equivalent.

1741-8. ALEXANDER GRANT OF GRANTSFIELD.

We now come to the last Sheriff-Depute under the system which obtained previous to the abolition of Heritable Jurisdictions in 1748.

On 7 January, 1724, the subject of this notice, designed as Captain Alexander Grant, had a Disposition of the Lands and Barony of Ballogie and others, in the parish of Midmar, from John Forbes, whose father, Alexander Forbes, had a Charter under the Great Seal on 13 July, 1681. On 13 February, 1727, Captain Grant obtained a Charter under the Great Seal, the name of the lands being changed to Grantsfield. Upon this Charter he was infeft, conform to Sasine dated 27 April and registered at Aberdeen on 18 May, 1727. At the Michaelmas County Meeting on 30 September, 1729, Captain Grant produced his Crown Charter and Sasine, and his name was added to the list of Barons entitled to vote for the election of Members of Parliament for the County.

On 6 May, 1741, Grant presented a Crown Commission appointing him Sheriff-Depute during the Royal pleasure, dated at St. James Palace 24 April, 1741, and written to the Seal, and registered on 4 May thereafter. After his Commission was read in Court, he qualified for office by taking all the necessary oaths before the Justices of Peace assembled in Quarter Sessions. Although his Commission bore expressly that he was Sheriff-Depute, he immediately assumed and used the title of Sheriff, and when he appointed substitutes he styled them Deputes.

The ordinary work of the Court was not attended to by Sheriff Grant during his tenure of office, but by those to whom he deputed it, and his name does not appear frequently in the Books of Court.

In the Albemarle papers¹ there is a letter under date 8 August, 1746, from Sheriff Grant to the Lord Justice Clerk, containing a most lamentable complaint that on the previous morning his house had been surrounded by a company of soldiers of Brigadier Fleming's regiment, who searched it for rebels and ill-used and robbed some of his tenants.

Officials : Sheriffs-Depute

Considering that James Petrie, Advocate in Aberdeen, whom Sheriff Grant appointed his Substitute in 1744, had read the Pretender's Proclamation at the Market Cross on 25 September, 1745, it is not surprising that he was under suspicion, or that Lord Albemarle considered him to be a Jacobite at heart.¹

What is now called Midmar Castle, was in Captain Grant's time called Grantsfield Castle, and he signed Commissions there on 1 December, 1741, and 8 May, 1744. On the first of these occasions one of the witnesses was Lieut. Hugh Grant, of Col. Cholmondley's regiment, while Francis Gordon, of Milne of Kincardine, was a witness on the second occasion.

On 19 January, 1767, the lands of Grantsfield were sold to James Davidson, Merchant in Aberdeen, and after various changes of ownership, were purchased on 15 May, 1843, by Lieut.-Col. Gordon of Cluny, who, passing over the names of Ballogie and Grantsfield, caused to be inserted in his title the more ancient name of Midmar.

The Sheriffs-Substitute

1681-2.

JOHN GORDON OF WRANGHAM.

From November, 1681, to February, 1682, John Gordon of Wrangham officiated as Sheriff-Substitute. He is expressly designed "Substitutus," and must have held a temporary appointment from Sir Charles Maitland of Pitrichie, although nothing of the kind has been found recorded in the books.

1688-90.

GEORGE KEITH OF CRICHIE.

Afterwards a Sheriff-Depute and designed "of Clackriach." No Commission has been found at this time; but Keith was designed "Substitute" in the Sederunts.

1691.

ALEXANDER FRASER, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

Fraser received on 2 July, 1691, a Commission from Andrew Fraser of Kinmundie to act during his absence. He had been an advocate since 1671.

Mr. ROBERT PATERSONE, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN,
AND COMMISSARY.

Andrew Fraser of Kinmundie appointed Patersone his Substitute, during his absence in Edinburgh for some time. The witnesses to the Commission, which was dated 10 July, 1699, were George Keith of Clackriach and Mr. Thomas Hay, the Sheriff Clerk.

Mr. Patersone was returning officer at the election of a Civilist at King's College, on 8 June, 1743, when James Cattnach, Advocate in Aberdeen, and Charles Hamilton Gordon, Advocate, were the Candidates.

CAPTAIN JOHN STUART OF DENS.

On 21 September, 1708, Mr. John Elphinstone, Younger of Logie, the Sheriff-Depute, signed at Aberdeen, a Commission appointing Captain John Stuart of Dens to be his Substitute, during his pleasure. On 5 October following, Captain Stuart appeared in Court, accepted office, and was sworn ; but there is no trace of his having acted. Among the witnesses to the signing of the Commission were Mr. James Ferguson, Advocate, Mr. Archibald Forbes of Puttachy, and Peter Smith, Procurator Fiscal.

1708-9.

JOHN PATON, YOUNGER OF GRANDHOME.

On 29 October, 1708, Mr. Elphinstone signed, at Edinburgh, a Commission appointing George Paton of Grandhome and John Paton, Younger thereof, his son, conjunctly and severally, to be his Substitutes, during his pleasure. The elder Paton does not appear to have accepted, but his son did so, on 3 November, 1708, and was sworn in. He discharged the duties until the end of July, 1709. Both George and John Paton seem to have been Advocates in Aberdeen.

John Paton was elected Rector at King's College six times, 1728-33.

1709-11.

GEORGE KEITH OF CLACKRIACH.

Appointed by Mr. Elphinstone to be his Substitute, the subject of this notice now took judicial office in the County for the third time. His Commission was signed by Mr. Elphinstone at Edinburgh, on 22 July, and he took his seat on 30 July, 1709. Mr. James Ferguson, Advocate, of Pitfour, and Mr. Arthur Forbes of Shives were witnesses to the signing of the Commission.

1710-12.

PATRICK SANDILANDS, YOUNGER OF COTTOUN.

On 28 January, 1710, Sandilands presented a Commission, dated Edinburgh 23 January, appointing him conjunct Sheriff-Substitute with Keith of Clackriach in "Civill Actions." After the death of Keith, Sandilands received another Commission in the usual terms, dated 14 May, 1711, and he continued to act as Sheriff-Substitute until he was appointed to the higher office by the Earl of Mar in April, 1712.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

1713. MR. ALEXANDER THOMSONE OF PORTLETHIN,
 ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

A Commission was granted to Mr. Thomsone by Sandilands to act as his Substitute in his absence.

Mr. Thomsone was Dean of Faculty at Marischal College in 1714 and several years following.

1716-22. CAPTAIN FRANCIS FORBES.

On receiving the appointment of Sheriff-Depute from the Earl of Rothes, Mr. Garden, Younger, of Troup appointed Captain Francis Forbes to be his Substitute. His first Commission was dated at Aberdeen, 3 September, 1716, and his second (on the accession of a new Sheriff Principal) at Edinburgh on 26 September, 1722. The last occasion on which he is noted as having been in Court was on 24 October of the same year, when Alexander, Lord Pitsligo, James Forbes of Putachie, Mr. Alexander Thomsone of Portlethin, and George Keith, Advocate in Aberdeen, as Curators of Sir William Forbes of Monymusk, gave up Inventories of the Minor's means and estate.

1722-7. MR. ALEXANDER THOMSONE OF PORTLETHIN.

A Commission, dated at Edinburgh 12 October, 1722, was produced in Court on 24 October. By it Mr. Garden appointed Mr. Thomsone his sole Sheriff-Substitute. His last appearance on the bench under this Commission seems to have been on 15 February, 1727.

1722-4 ROBERT STEWART, MERCHANT AND LATE
 PROVOST OF ABERDEEN.

At a Court presided over by Sheriff-Substitute Thomson, on 19 December, 1722, a Commission by Mr. Garden, dated 23 November preceding, in favor of ex-Provost Stewart was presented, and he was sworn and admitted. He appears to have acted concurrently with Thomson until he was re-elected Provost in the latter half of 1724.

Officials: Sheriffs-Substitute

1727-37. MR. JAMES UDNY, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

Mr. James Udney, who became an Advocate in Aberdeen in 1709, presented his first Commission as Sheriff-Substitute on 17 February, 1727. Mr. Garden signed it in Edinburgh (apparently at the Royal Coffee House), on 13 February. All former Substitutions were recalled by this one, and the office was conferred during the granter's pleasure.

In August of the same year Mr. Udney had a Commission from the Sheriff Principal (the Earl of Rothes), to act as his Depute for performing duties in connection with the Parliamentary Election.

On 20 May, 1728, Sheriff Forbes de novo appointed Mr. Udney as his Substitute, in virtue of which he appears to have held office until July, 1737.

Mr. Udney's name occurs repeatedly as an Assessor or Procurator at elections at King's College.

1737-41. JAMES CATTANACH, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

James Cattanach, who became an Advocate in Aberdeen in 1731, received two Commissions as Sheriff-Substitute from Sheriff Forbes, the earlier, dated 28 July, 1737, of a somewhat limited character, and the other dated 15 August thereafter, in usual form.

With a view to his becoming a candidate for the office of Civilist at King's College, Cattanach in 1743, obtained the degree of Doctor of Laws at Marischal College after examination. The result of a dispute over the election to the Chair of Civil Law, was a decision by the House of Lords, that Cattanach had been duly elected, and he held the office from 1745 until his death in 1760. In 1748 King's College conferred upon him the degree of LL.D.

1741-4. JOHN THAIN, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

Grant of Grantsfield appointed for his first Sheriff-Substitute, John Thain, Advocate in Aberdeen. The Commission was dated 21 May, 1741, and was presented in Court on the same day. It was to endure until recalled in writing, which was done by a Deed of Revocation signed at Aberdeen on 17 April, 1744, in presence of the Sheriff Clerk, and of Doctor James Gordoun of Hilltoun.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

Six months after his appointment, Thain made an order of Court that no person should thereafter "during the sitting of the Shirreff Court enter within the Barr at the Clerks table except allenarly the Clerk and his servants under the pain of being punished as the Sheriff shall think proper."

Thain became an Advocate in Aberdeen in 1724.

1744-5. JAMES PETRIE, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

After revoking the appointment of John Thain, the Sheriff-Depute granted, on 8 May, 1744, a Commission to James Petrie, a very junior member of the local bar, which he had joined only in the previous year. Notwithstanding this, or possibly because of this, he showed some zeal in bringing about improvements in procedure. In especial, by an Order of Court dated 13 June, 1744, which was signed by him and all the members of the bar, he established Process Caption, and the incarceration of procurators for not returning processes in due course.

Perhaps, however, the name of this Sheriff-Substitute is best remembered by his having read the Pretender's Proclamation at the Market Cross on 25 September, 1745. As not one single volume has come down to us from the years 1745 and 1746, it is impossible to say whether any notice of this found its way into the records of the Court. By an examination of the recorded Deeds and Protests for these years one by one, it has been ascertained that a Deed was said to have been lodged "in presentia Petrie" on 23 September, 1745, but that afterwards the name of Sheriff Grant was invariably used.

It may be added that Petrie took the Oaths of Allegiance and Abjuration on his appointment as Sheriff-Substitute, in presence of Alexander Bannerman of Frendraught and Dr. James Gordon of Hiltoun as Justices of the Peace, and again on 14 April, 1748, before the then Sheriff-Depute, to enable him to follow his profession.

1746-7. JOHN CLERK, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

For the reasons given in the preceding notice, no record of the appointment of John Clerk as a Sheriff-Substitute has been found. The first mention of his name in this capacity is upon a Deed recorded on 9

Officials : Sheriffs-Substitute

April, 1746; and from the earliest portion of a Diet Book, beginning on 3 June, 1747, it would appear that he continued to act until 31 July of the latter year.

1747-8. MR. JAMES UDNY, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

Mr. Udney took office upon this occasion in virtue of a Commission by Sheriff Grant, dated 2 November, 1747, and continued to act until the end of March, 1748.

The Sheriff Clerks

1661-72.

MR. JAMES KENNEDIE.

Unless Commissions can be found the Sheriff Clerk is a most difficult official to trace, and in the case of Mr. James Kennedie and his successor, no appointments have been got. The first mention of Mr. Kennedie as Sheriff Clerk has been found at the close of a Special Service, on 19 February, 1662, and the last, in the same way, on 3 January, 1670; but no mention of his successor has been traced until 4 June, 1673. It has, however, been ascertained from the Register of Hornings, etc., at the Register House, Edinburgh, that Mr. Kennedie succeeded Mr. John Campbell between September and November, 1661, and that he ceased to hold office, and was succeeded by Mr. Nicolson, in March, 1672.

The name of Mr. Kennedie designed "Toune Clerk" occurs in an Act of Curatory, on 16 September, 1661. The Minor was Margaret Chalmer, daughter of the late Mr. John Chalmer, Sheriff Clerk. The nearest of kin on the father's side were Mr. James Chalmer, Minister at Cullen, Mr. Wm. Chalmer, Minister at Skeen, and Mr. Kennedie. On the mother's side there were cited Robert Peacock, Merchant, burghess of Aberdeen, Mr. Alexr. Midltoun, Minister of Rayne, and Mr. Thomas Gordon of Kethocksmill.

On 9 June, 1668, Mr. Kennedie, elder, Sheriff and Town Clerk, and Mr. James Kennedie, younger, also called Sheriff Clerk, were admitted burgesses of Abd. The reason for not placing the son on this list is because the father, wherever his name occurs, is designed "Clericus principalis," and the son is never mentioned. It was common in those days to have commissions in favor of father and son, by way of securing the succession to the latter, but as often as not, they were not acted on by the younger grantee.

It is believed that the elder Kennedie was the same person who is mentioned on the list of the Society of Advocates, as having qualified in 1620.

Kennedy the younger was something of a poet,¹ and either the father or the son (probably the latter) was appointed Conservator of the Scottish Privileges in the Low Countries, and was knighted.

1672-8. MR. GEORGE NICOLSON OF CLUNY, ADVOCATE.

As appears from the foregoing notice Mr. Nicolson succeeded Mr. Kennedie in March, 1672.

He was elected Rector at King's College on 13 January, 1673, and Civilist on 7 May thereafter. He was afterwards a Senator of the College of Justice, under the title of Lord Kemnay.

1678-85. WILLIAM GORDONE, CONJUNCT CLERK OF LEITH.

On 27 July, 1678, the Duke of Lauderdale, principal and sole Secretary of State for Scotland, appointed Wm. Gordone, conjunct Clerk of Leith and Gordone his son conjunctly, and the longest liver of them, to be Sheriff Clerks in succession to Mr. Nicolson. The qualifications are thus stated :—

"Knoweing the sd. Wm. Gordone to be ane persone sufficientlie able & qualified for exercing of the sd. office and that he is educating his sd. sone in all wayes may best fitt him for that imployment and of uthers readdie inclinationes thereto & hopefull advances therein wee are weill informed."

No mention of Gordone has been found in the Books after 1683; but his name occurs on a Horning as late as 4 January, 1685.

In 1679, Gordone is designed "of Newtyle," and from a Ratification in the Scots Acts of 1681, it would appear that he had a wadset over that part of Alexander Udny of Udny's lands in Foveran, for 4400 merks. His wife's name was Agnes Blaikburn and their eldest son was John Gordone.

1685. MR. THOMAS HAY.

The only trace of Thomas Hay at this period is found (6 October, 1685), in the recorded copy of the Earl of Aboyne's service already referred to, as having been presided over by the Earl of Erroll. After stating the dating and sealing by the jurors, there follow the words, "ac per me Thomam Hay, Clericum principalem ejusdem [vicecomitatus] subscriptum."

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

1686-8.

JAMES OGILBIE OF BANKHEAD.

The name of this James Ogilbie is first found in the Books of Court as principal Sheriff Clerk, on 10 November, 1686, but in the Register of Hornings he is first mentioned on 6 March of that year, and last on 11 February, 1688.

1688-1736.

MR. THOMAS HAY.

Mr. Hay had already enjoyed a short tenure of office ; but he now entered upon a new term, which was destined to extend to almost half a century.

It appears from subsequent references to them, that on 1 March, 1688, Hay had a gift of the office from the Earls of Murray and Melfort, Secretaries of State, in favor of himself, and his son Colin Hay, who must have been very young at that time.

After the Revolution, on 2 May, 1691, Hay obtained from the Earl of Melvill and the Master of Stair, the then Secretaries of State, another gift, containing a ratification of the former ; but as Colin Hay was not referred to in it, he had probably died in the interim.

On 7 July, 1708, the Earl of Mar (who, contrary to the prevailing rule, had by his Commission power to appoint Clerks), signed, at Edinburgh, a Commission, whereby he appointed Mr. Thomas Hay, and Alexander Hay, his eldest son, to the office, conjunctly during their joint lives, and to the longest liver for his lifetime. The narrative about Alexander Hay's education is couched in the precise words which were used of Wm. Gordon's son [Supra p. 119]. The right to fees was reserved to Mr. Thomas Hay during his life, and in point of fact the name of Alexander Hay is never found in connection with the office, until his father and he disposed of it in 1736, as after mentioned.

Mr. Thomas Hay acted on various occasions as an Assessor and Procurator at elections at King's College.

Officials: Sheriff Clerks

1736-48. GEORGE TURNER, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

Under cover of appointing him their Depute (but really by way of sale), Mr. Thomas Hay, and his son Alexander Hay, passed the office of Sheriff Clerk to George Turner, Advocate in Aberdeen. The Deputation was dated 22 June, 1736, and presented in Court on the following day. It contained a power to Turner to uplift the profits of the office, and to apply them to his own use, without being liable to account for them. The Sheriff-Depute (Wm. Forbes), whose diligence has already been referred to, caused the Hays to lodge all their titles to the office, and made avizandum with Turner's application for admission to next Court day, which was on 25 June. He then pronounced an Interlocutor admitting Turner to the office of Sheriff Clerk, in terms of the Deputation by Mr. Thomas Hay and Alexander Hay, and thereafter in the Books of Court he was styled Sheriff Clerk. If he received any other gift or Commission at that time it has not been found. He remained in office long after 1748, as will be noticed in its place.

The Procurators Fiscal

1660-84.

MR. ALEXANDER ROBERTSONE,
ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

Mr. Robertson's original appointment has not been found, but there is evidence that he was in office soon after 1660, and he got from Lord Erroll, in 1678, an appointment for life, "or till such tyme as he should committ any fault or enormitie." Sir Charles Maitland of Pitrichie quarrelled this appointment, but apparently without effect.

1690-1.

WILLIAM HAY.

There is an absence of evidence as to the office between 1684 and 1690, but it is likely that William Hay held it for at least a portion of that time. He was probably the Advocate in Aberdeen of 1670. His tenure of office was during Lord Erroll's pleasure.

1691-1707.

MR. ALEXANDER LESLIE, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

On the resignation of William Hay, Lord Erroll appointed Mr. Leslie to be Fiscal, during his pleasure. The Commission was signed at Slains, on 27 April, and presented on 1 May, 1691.

Mr. Leslie died in the end of 1706 or beginning of 1707.

1707-16.

PATRICK SMITH, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

On 21 February, 1707, Smith presented a Commission, granted three days before, by Fraser of Kinmundie, with consent of Keith of Clackriach, joint Sheriff-Depute. It was to endure during Fraser's pleasure.

1716-23.

JOHN CUTHBERT OF ROSSHALL,
ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

This Procurator Fiscal, who was also designed "of Braikenhills," was appointed by Captain Francis Forbes, the Sheriff-Substitute, on 6 October, 1716, and entered on office the same day.

1723-7. MR. JAMES UDNY, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

The first notice of this Fiscal has been found in the sentence of fine at the Yule Head Court of 1723. He continued to act until he became Sheriff-Substitute in 1727.

1727-8. GEORGE WALKER, WRITER IN ABERDEEN.

Mr. Udney, who had just vacated the office of Fiscal and become Sheriff-Substitute, appointed Walker to succeed him, the Commission being dated 23 February, 1727.

1728-9. JAMES IRVINE, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

Sheriff-Depute Wm. Forbes was no sooner in office than he made this appointment, and Irvine was admitted on 14 May, 1728. He was to hold office during the pleasure of the Sheriff-Depute, but resigned before November, 1729.

1729-43. GEORGE WALKER, WRITER
(AFTERWARDS ADVOCATE) IN ABERDEEN.

On 1 November, 1729, the Sheriff-Depute re-appointed Walker, and he continued in office until his resignation in 1743.

1743-4. JAMES PETRIE, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

Petrie's Commission as Fiscal was signed by Grant of Grantsfield, at Aberdeen, on 19 May, 1743, one of the witnesses being Charles Farquharson of Inverey.

1744-78. FRANCIS GORDON OF MILN OF KINCARDINE, WRITER IN ABERDEEN.

Gordon's Commission was dated 10 May, 1744, and, as was usual, it was revocable at the pleasure of the Sheriff-Depute, but there is no evidence of another appointment before 1748.

The Sheriff Clerks

1748-60. GEORGE TURNER OF MENIE, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

Turner who was in office in 1748, continued to act as sole Sheriff Clerk until 1760.

1760-4 GEORGE TURNER OF MENIE AND ROBERT TURNER, HIS SON.

On the narrative that George Turner of Menie, the Sheriff Clerk, had resigned, Andrew Fletcher of Saltoun, Keeper of the Signet, granted a Commission in favor of the said George Turner and his son, Robert Turner, appointing them to be joint Sheriff Clerks during their joint lives, and the survivor to be sole Sheriff Clerk. The Commission was signed at Edinburgh, on 15 February, 1760. Mr. Fletcher's title was a Crown grant for life, of the office of Keeper of Signet, dated 4 June (old style), 1748, which conferred on him the patronage of all Sheriff Clerkships in Scotland.

Although Robert Turner resided in London, and does not appear to have done any duty in the office of Sheriff Clerk, he qualified for office by taking the prescribed oaths in the Court of King's Bench, at Westminster, on 9 February, 1761.

1764-84. JOHN GORDON OF CRAIG AND JOHN DURNO, WRITER
(AFTERWARDS ADVOCATE) IN ABERDEEN.

The Commission to Gordon of Craig and John Durno was signed by Andrew Fletcher, therein designed "of Milton one of the Senators of the College of Justice" as well as Keeper of the Signet, and was dated 14 July, 1764. It proceeded upon the statement that George and Robert Turner had resigned. The date of Durno's becoming an Advocate in Aberdeen is stated to have been 24 July. The appointment was conjunct, with a clause of remainder to the survivor; but was vacated by a Deed of Resignation, dated 10 February, 1784. Durno died 1817.

Mr. French, who had been an Advocate in Aberdeen since 1743, was appointed by Mr. Dalrymple, the Sheriff-Depute, to be Procurator Fiscal of the Sheriffdom, with a salary of £10 per annum, payable out of his own salary of £200. Mr. French died 2 January, 1759.

1759-71. WM. BURNETT, ADVOCATE IN ABERDEEN.

On 17 January, 1759, a temporary appointment was given to Mr. Burnett by Charles Forbes of Shiels, the Sheriff-Substitute, which was followed by the Sheriff-Depute's formal Commission, dated 10 April thereafter. No salary was mentioned : but the new Fiscal was to enjoy the "fees and casualities" belonging to the office. Mr. Burnett became an Advocate in Aberdeen in 1754, and died, 7 March, 1811.

On 18 April, 1768, Mr. Burnett was appointed (apparently in an emergency) a Sheriff-Substitute, when he at once gave a nomination to James McLean, Writer in Aberdeen, empowering him to act as Fiscal, from 25 April to 15 May of that year, or until recalled.

A joint Commission was, on 10 April, 1771, given to Mr. Burnett and Mr. Morice, which was repeated by Mr. Elphinston of Glack, on 29 October, 1777, one of the witnesses on that occasion being Charles McKenzie of Kilcoy.

Aberdeenshire Sheriff Court :

During this period of office, Mr Burnett seems to have had no colleague: but in 1798 he authorised his son Mr. Thomas Burnett, Advocate in Aberdeen, to sign for him such complaints as required the Fiscal's concurrence, the reason given being that he resided a little way out of town. On 13 December, 1805, he resigned because "he had now grown old and lived out of town."

1805-6. THOMAS BURNETT AND DUNCAN DAVIDSON,
ADVOCATES IN ABERDEEN.

NOTE REGARDING IDENTIFICATION OF NAMES.—It would have been difficult, if not impossible for the Index maker, to disentangle and index separately different places with the same name, where there was nothing in the text to fix the particular locality, and this has not been attempted. Such names as Boddom, Crichtie, Cults, Haddo, Kinmundy, Pitmedden and others, of which there are numerous instances, will readily occur to any one acquainted with Aberdeenshire Place Names. It was far from easy to fully carry out identifications of names differently spelled while the matter was gradually passing through the press; but a great deal has been successfully accomplished by Miss Kennedy in this way. In a few instances slips have been made in attempting this, e.g., in identifying Bryxie or Bruxie with Brux, Bethlyne with Bedlam, Cowborty with Cobairdy, and Creuchie and Creauche with Creichie or Crichtie.—ED.

The programme of the Club also includes the following works approved by the Council :—

VII.—RECORDS OF ELGIN. Compiled by Mr. William Cramond, LL.D. Vol. II. Owing to Mr. Cramond's continued ill-health, an examination of his collections was made, at the request of the Rev. Professor Cooper, by the Rev. Stephen Ree, who has kindly consented to arrange them and see the book through the press. Mr. Ree reports that Dr. Cramond had planned Vol. II. as under, and that, with the exception of the General Preface (to be contributed by Professor Cooper), and the Index, the following items are ready to go into the printer's hands :—

- (i.) General Preface to Vols. I. and II.
- (ii.) The Church. This section to embrace :—
 - 1. Extracts from Kirk Session Records, from 1584.
 - 2. Extracts from Presbytery Records.
 - 3. List of Ministers.
- (iii.) The School : Grammar School and Sang (or English) School. This section to embrace :—
 - 1. Extracts from Town Council Minutes.
 - 2. Extracts from Presbytery Records.
 - 3. List of Schoolmasters.
- (iv.) Inventories of Town Council's Books and Papers.
- (v.) List of Provosts.
- (vi.) List of M.P.'s.
- (vii.) List of Honorary Burgesses.

(viii.) List of Commissioners to Convention of Royal Burghs, with extracts from Convention's Proceedings, and from Town Council Papers.

(x.) Index to Vols. I. and II.

VIII.—RECORDS OF INVERNESS. Edited by Mr. William Mackay, Solicitor. Vol. 1. to deal with the Burgh Charters from William the Lion onwards, and the Burgh Court-books from the middle of the sixteenth century.

IX.—FOLK MUSIC OF THE NORTH-EAST OF SCOTLAND. Edited by Mr. Gavin Greig, Whitehill, and the Rev. J. B. Duncan, B.D., Lynturk.

X.—RECORDS OF OLD ABERDEEN. Edited by Mr. A. M. Munro. Vol. II., to deal with the Ecclesiastical Records—Kirk-Session, etc.

XI.—THE HOUSE OF FORBES. To be compiled by contributors making themselves individually responsible for the treatment of different branches of the family. General Editor : Colonel Allardyce, LL.D.

XII.—BIBLIOGRAPHY OF THE SHIRES OF ABERDEEN, BANFF AND KINCARDINE. Compiled by Mr. J. F. Kellas Johnstone, and others.

XIII.—RECORDS OF THE RED, WHITE, BLACK AND GREY FRIARS OF ABERDEEN. 1211-1560. To be edited probably by the Secretary of the Club.

Two other works have been suggested to the Council during the past year as suitable for addition to the programme of the Club.

XIV.—SELECTIONS FROM THE COUNTY RECORDS OF THE NORTH - EASTERN DISTRICT. The Council is of opinion that, should the sanction of the County authorities be obtained, such selections would be valuable as illustrating many phases of administration now dead or transmuted; and that a Report should be prepared of the amount of material available.

- XV.—The Council has been reminded that by the death of Principal Sir William Geddes the Musa Latina Aberdonensis which he had planned was deprived of its third and concluding volume and thus remains imperfect. Should the Club agree with the view of the Council that the work ought to be completed, they are not without hope that the services of a competent editor may be secured. It has been ascertained that the late Principal had proceeded no further in his preparation than to draw up a list of the minor local Latin poets of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries whose writings he intended to include in Vol. III. This list comprised the names of Andrew Aidie, William Aidie, John Alexander, John Barclay, William Blackhall, Robert Brown, Thomas Cargill, Thomas Dempster, Alexander Downie, Robert Downie, Patrick Dun, John Forbes, Alexander Garden, James Gordon, Robert Gordon, William Gordon, Patrick Jamieson, John Johnston, William Johnston, James Keith, John Kemp, James Kennedy, John Ker, William Lauder, James Lawson, David Leech, John Leech, William Leslie, John Lundie, Andrew Massie, William Meston, Gilbert Middleton, Archibald Pitcairn, John Rae, Thomas Reid, George Robertson, Alexander Ross, John Row, James Sandilands, John Sibbald, Archibald Simpson, George Strachan, John Taylor, John Vaus, Robert Watson, Alexander Wedderburn, David Wedderburn, William Wedderburn, Florence Wilson. It will be remembered that Colonel Johnston, C.B., had presented for the projected volume copies of a photogravure reproduction of Jameson's portrait of his collateral ancestor, Professor William Johnston.

Since the last report was submitted by the Council, ten members of the Club have died : Dr. Charles Angus, Kingseat ; Mr. J. P. Bisset, Banchory ; Mr. J. P. Edmond, Edinburgh, a Member of the Council ; Mr. Henry Wolrige-Gordon of Esslemont, a Member of the Council ; Rev. William Gordon, Braemar ; Mr. A. W. Ledingham, Aberdeen ; Right Rev. A. J. Milne, LL.D., Fyvie ; Mr. William Milne, C.A., Aberdeen, one of the Auditors ; Mr. James Simson, Edinburgh ; Mr. William Watt, Aberdeen.

The places rendered vacant by some of these deaths have, under Rule 9, been filled by representatives of the deceased members, but other vacancies allow the admission of new members. As new members are usually desirous of securing a full set of the Club's publications, it may be stated that although the earlier issues are entirely out of print (as indicated on pp. 14-15), the volumes occasionally come into the market, and the Secretary can usually direct a new member to a source whence they may be obtained.

The Council wish to express their continued obligation to the Society of Advocates for permitting the Annual General Meeting of the Club to be held in the Society's Hall ; and to the Curator of the University Library for granting the use of a room for Committee meetings.
