They died to make us free, giving themselves a Sacrifice in defence of us and our Homes.

“ Whether they live or die,
They chose the best,
They sprang to Duty's call.
They stood the test.”

“Those who lived, and those who died,
They were one in noble pride
Of desperate endeavour and of duty nobly done ;
For their lives they risked and they gave
Very Soul of Life to Save,
And by their own great valour, and the Grace of God, they won.”
